LIBERALS PRESENT STONEWALL FRONT

Naval Bill Remains in Committee Stage With Opposition Firm as Adamant

CONTINUE HOLDING COMMONS IN DEBATE

French Members Contribute Speeches in Early Hours This Morning

F. B. CARVELL SEEKS FOR INFORMATION

Ottawa, March 6.—The parliamentary deadlock over the government's proposal to vote thirty-five million dollars for the construction of three Dreadnoughts still continues. Both sides remain firm as adamant. The Liberals still say that unless the government gives way the debate will be continued until Saturday at midnight. The Conservatives declare that there is absolutely no possibility of an adjournment of the House being permitted unless the opposition consents to allow the particular clause under discussion to go through.

Much of the speaking during the night was done by French-Canadian members. The dramatic incidents which marked the previous night's sitting were for the most part lacking. A. B. McColg, of West Kent, who followed Hugh Guthrie, spoke for a couple of hours and was followed by James Douglas, of Strathcona, who maintained that the government policy would lead to centralization and would be to the detriment of Canada and the Empire.

The next speaker was M. Michaud, of Victoria. New Brunswick, who maintained the people should be consulted. The only thing the government could do, he said, was to vote money and sing patriotic songs. They want to give money without blood, brains or brains. The next speaker, Mr. Lachance, of Quebec Centre, who got into a number of disputes with Albert Severyn, of Dorchester, contended that the real enemies of the Empire in Canada today are to be found on the government benches, while friends of the Empire are those who would build a Canadian navy in time of trouble.

Mr. Lachance concluded at 5 a. m. when he was succeeded by C. A. Gauvreau, of Temiscouata, who in turn was succeeded by M. J. Demers, of St. Jean and Ilerieville. The opposition during the night was led by F. B. Carvell, who was supported by Dr. Beland, William Kaye, J. McMillan and a number of others.

The government forces during the night were led by Hon. Frank Cochrane, who was joined at six o'clock in the morning by Hon. Robt. Rogers and Hon. J. D. Reid. Back of the ministers throughout the night sat a group of twenty to thirty members, who grimly determined that they would not be caught napping by any snap division.

During early morning hours Mr. Carvell asked for additional information which he said had been promised by Premier Borden and which was not forthcoming. What he wanted particularly was information regarding percentage of costs of armaments, stores, etc., for the Bristol cruisers contained in Mr. Borden's estimates. Mr. Carvell said that the Admiralty memorandum showed 16 per cent, while the premier and Mr. Hazen made it 40 per cent. The people, he said, were entitled to an explanation of these discrepancies.

Dr. Clark of Red Deer, supported the request. He wondered if the government was afraid to give the information. To him it appeared their case was unsound.

When Mr. Demers was speaking at an early hour this morning he quoted from a speech made by Hon. Geo. E. Foster in the House in 1899, in which he discouraged the idea of contributions. Deputy Speaker Blondin, who was in the chair, stopped Dr. Demers and ruled that he could not read a quotation more than once. Immediately there was a protest on the part of E. M. Macdonald, who said it was not fair to the opposition and would inconvenience them if they were not permitted to quote freely from speeches regarding the question under discussion. They should, for instance, be at liberty to quote as often as they liked a speech made by Mr. Blondin himself, in which he said that it had been necessary to shoot holes in the Union Jack in order to breathe the air of liberty.

Mr. Blondin did not withdraw his ruling, but Mr. Demers was permitted to quote from Mr. Foster's speech statements which applied to the point he was discussing.

A large part of the forenoon sitting was occupied with a speech by Hon. Chas. Murphy. He thought it was extraordinary that in a constitutional country a great question of this kind should be settled by a test of physical strength in the Commons, and not by the people. The discussion, he said, should not stop until all figures were

JANINA FORTRESS FALLS INTO HANDS OF PRINCE CONSTANTINE

Three Squadrons of Cavalry Enter Turkish Stronghold at Nine o'Clock To-day

THIRTY-TWO THOUSAND SURRENDER TO GREEKS

Victory Comes After Active Bombardment Lasting Forty-Eight Hours

WILD ENTHUSIASM PREVALES IN ATHENS

Athens, Greece, March 6.—The Turkish fortress of Janina, the key to the possession of the province of Epirus, with its garrison of 32,000 men, surrendered to the Greek army to-day after a defence which forms one of the most brilliant episodes of the Balkan war.

The surrender was preceded by a fierce bombardment, lasting without cessation for two days and two nights. Every available gun, including a number of heavy howitzers, lent by the Servian artillery, was brought to bear on the forts defending the beleaguered city.

No fewer than thirty thousand shells were fired by the Greek guns during the first day's cannonading. Gradually the Turkish batteries at Bizani, Manolara, Sakni and elsewhere were silenced.

The Greek commanders, by a feint, led the Turks to believe that their attack would be made from the right. As soon as the attention of the defenders had been distracted the Greeks hurled large bodies of infantry onto the Turkish left. The Ottoman troops, utterly surprised, fell back in disorder.

The batteries on the heights of Bizani, the mainstay of the defence, had been unable to withstand the pelting of the shells, and were reduced to complete silence at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The Greeks pushed their forward movement during the afternoon and occupied the Turkish batteries on the Sakni and Elia hills, capturing all the guns and 110 artillerymen. They then deployed onto the plain in front of the city.

The Turkish flight immediately became general, despite all the efforts of the Ottoman officers to rally their men. Whole detachments succumbed to panic and joined in a mad race into the city. The Greek troops followed in hot pursuit almost to the walls.

With the defending batteries in the hands of the Greeks and the Hellenic soldiers at the gates of Janina, Essad Pasha, the Turkish commander, at six o'clock this morning sent messengers under a flag of truce, to Crown Prince Constantine, of Greece, announcing the surrender of the city and all of the troops under his command.

The fall of Janina was announced by the Crown Prince to the Greek war office in the following dispatch: "Eninaga (Greek headquarters), six a. m.—The Greek army having occupied the entire left front of the city of Janina, and also Bizani, and Castriza having been surrounded by our troops, Essad Pasha has just informed me that his troops surrender as prisoners of war."

"I will send you shortly details of the great victory of our gallant army." "Wild enthusiasm reigned in the streets of Athens on the announcement of the news." All the houses were decorated with flags. "Excited people thronged the thoroughfares, singing the Greek National Anthem while joyous peals rang out from every church steeple in the capital."

The fortress was entered at 9 o'clock this morning by three squadrons of Greek cavalry under command of Gen. Giorgi Souzo.

London, March 6.—There was great rejoicing in Greek diplomatic circles over the fall of the important Turkish stronghold of Janina, which had hitherto offered stern resistance to the Greek attack.

The success of their army places Greece in a much stronger position to deal with Bulgaria when the time comes for the division of the spoils of war.

COAL LANDS TRIAL

Chicago, March 6.—Albert C. Frost, Frank Watson, of Spokane, Wash., and four co-defendants charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States government out of $10,000,000 worth of Alaska coal lands, were placed on trial in the United States district court before Judge K. M. Landis to-day.

trial to a proper consideration of the question have been furnished by the government. Mr. Murphy argued that the time was fast approaching when the development of alrships would make war practically impossible.

E. M. Macdonald, of Pictou, took the floor at noon, when Hon. Chas. Murphy concluded his preliminary remarks by saying that a two or three-hour effort

Servians in Troop Ships Meet Disaster From Cruiser Hamidieh in Aegean Sea

Vienna, March 6.—The Turkish cruiser Hamidieh to-day sunk three Greek troopships loaded with Servian troops on the way to Scutari, according to a Constantinople dispatch to the Neue Freie Presse.

The attack occurred near the Peninsula of Hagon Oros, in the Aegean Sea. From this it would appear that the troops were proceeding not to Scutari, but to Gallipoli, where it was proposed some time ago by the Balkan allies to make a flank attack on the Turkish troops defending the Dardanelles.

The convoy of Greek transports, was a large one, consisting of twenty-four vessels, which carried thirty-four guns. They were encountered by the Hamidieh, with her battery of 4.7-inch guns, shortly after they had left the coast.

PRISONER MAKES AN ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Leaves Burial Party at the New Westminster Penitentiary

SERVING TERM FOR CUMBERLAND THEFT

New Westminster, March 6.—One of a party of four convicts detailed under a guard to bury a prisoner who had died at the penitentiary last night, took advantage of his being outside the prison walls and made his escape this morning. All the prisoners have been kept in their cells and the prison guards, provincial and city police are now engaged on a hunt for the escaped convict, who is dressed in prison clothes and who speaks a little English.

John Bizitz, an Austrian, aged twenty-five, who had served all but six months of a four-year sentence for robbery at Cumberland, was the man who escaped. The burial party, under the control of but one guard, was busy digging a grave behind the Roman Catholic cemetery. There is very thick brush in the vicinity and Bizitz, while the guard's attention was attracted in another direction, made a dash into the bush. The guard caught a sight of him as he turned but had no chance to fire at the escaping prisoner, and before he could pursue him he had to smother the other convicts back to their cells.

Bizitz is described as of medium height and of sturdy build, with an insolent face. The fact that he had but a few months to serve to complete his sentence was why he was chosen as one of the burial gang.

London, March 6.—Robert Donald, managing editor of the Daily Chronicle and president of the Institute of British Journalists, gave the Canadian Associated Press his views regarding the forthcoming meeting of the Institute of Canada. "It is my endeavor," said Mr. Donald, "to have a thoroughly representative gathering. We want not only editors, but those who write editorial matter, the young ambitious British journalists. A party of fifty such as these will have special train from Montreal to Vancouver. This trip will cost each of them 50 pounds sterling personally, so there is no question of it being a free outing, or in any way at the expense of Canadian railways. The party will visit as many places as possible during the journey. It is hoped Canadians will not overburden them with customary Canadian hospitality, as the desire is that as many as may be able shall look about a little on their own account. As for the Institute annual gathering, the actual business meeting will be held on this side, and afterwards there will be receptions at Montreal, the details of which will rest with the Canadian committee. This second party, which may number a hundred, will probably make flying visits to Ottawa, Toronto and Niagara. In addition to Mr. Donald, journalists who are expected to make the first trip include: Harry Lawson, editor in chief of the Daily Telegraph; W. B. Hodgson, of the South Shields Gazette, and representatives of leading papers such as the Yorkshire Post and the Manchester Guardian.

FRENCH CABINET'S APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Military Bill Before Chamber of Deputies Accompanied by Declaration

ARMY EXTENSION FOR THE PEACE OF EUROPE

Paris, March 6.—An impressive appeal to the people of France to submit cheerfully to the sacrifices called for by the new military bill, increasing service in the army to three years, was made to-day when the cabinet submitted the measure to parliament.

The bill as laid before the chamber of deputies, was accompanied by a declaration from the ministry, expressing the profound conviction that the proposal must be adopted not only for the security of France, but also for the peace of Europe, which depends entirely on the maintenance of the equilibrium of the great nations of Europe. The government admitted that a heavy task was about to be laid upon the French people, whose clear vision and patriotism would, undoubtedly, overcome all hesitations and all contingencies.

Some exceptions to the general rule are made in the bill. Youths belonging to families of at least six children will serve only two years.

LISTS CLOSE APRIL 7 PERIOD IS SHORT

From March 3 to April 7 is the time set apart under the act during which names may be put on the new lists. After April 7 no names may be added. Liberals are reminded of the date and are urged to take the necessary action without delay so that none of their names will be left off through neglect.

SEAPORT RESIDENTS IN GRAVE ANXIETY

Believe Gunboat Sent by Government to Shell Town of Guaymas

SONORA STATE HAS RIGID CENSORSHIP

Guaymas, Sonora, Mex., March 6.—Grave anxiety among the 350 American residents of this seaport was aroused to-day by the report that the federal government is to send the gunboat Guerrero to the coast to shell the town. Urgent representations are being made to detain the cruiser Colorado, which arrived Tuesday night, but is scheduled to leave Friday.

Hermosillo, Sonora, Mex., March 6.—A rigid censorship was installed here to-day by the Sonora state government, which yesterday waved the banner of state rights in the face of the national government of Huerta. Officials of the new regime seized to-day the railway station and telegraph offices of the Southern Pacific of Mexico and placed all outgoing news under the ban. The censorship also applies to the commercial wires.

The railway operator at Garbo, a nearby station, was told that if he allowed any more news to be transmitted he would be shot, and that if he told of the threat to shoot him he would be shot. All train service except that conducted by the state authorities is annulled.

The train of state troops which left here yesterday went as far south as Ortiz, with the intention of burning bridges on the return trip, thus preventing Huerta troops from moving on the state capital from Guaymas, a port on the California gulf, where federal soldiers could be landed.

During the night volunteers arrived in great numbers in answer to the appeal of the state congress for forces to combat any intrusion of Huerta troops in the border state. Work on fortifications about the city continued through the night, ammunition was assembled and all made ready for the expected assault of federal forces.

Nogales, Ariz., March 6.—All train service on the Southern Pacific below this port was cancelled to-day. The insurgent state authorities at Hermosillo are using all trains seized yesterday.

RELEASE APPLICATION FOR THAW WITHDRAWN

New York, March 6.—A writ of habeas corpus, obtained in behalf of Harry K. Thaw, was suddenly withdrawn at the request of his counsel in the Supreme court to-day. No explanation was offered. Thaw was in court and William Travers Jerome was ready to proceed with the argument against him, when one of Thaw's lawyers announced that he desired to withdraw the proceedings.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES JAPAN'S AMBASSADOR

Rt. Hon. James Bryce of Great Britain Met Wilson Informally Yesterday

THE MIKADO EXTENDS HIS CONGRATULATIONS

Many March Fourth Sons Are Called Woodrow Wilson by Proud Parents

SECRETARY TUMULTUOUS SHATTERS TRADITION

Washington, D. C., March 6.—President Wilson's second day in the White House found a long engagement list awaiting his attention. Baron Chinda, ambassador from Japan, was the first representative of a foreign power to be received formally. He bore the congratulations of the Japanese Emperor, Ambassador Bryce, of Great Britain, met President Wilson informally yesterday.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, and Frederick C. Penfield, who are being mentioned as likely to become ambassadors to European courts had engagements at the White House later in the day.

Congratulatory telegrams and letters poured into the White House to-day from all over the world. They came from Kings, Emperors and Presidents of foreign republics; from proud fathers and mothers, who announced the birth on March 4 of sons who are to be named Woodrow Wilson; from most of the governors of the states; many mayors of cities and from scores of prominent Democrats throughout the country.

This was Secretary Bryan's first diplomatic day. Custom decrees that when a new secretary of state takes office, the diplomatic corps on the first Thursday of his administration shall call on him formally. Many appeared in full court regalia and the diplomatic reception room of the state department on such occasions presents all the appearance of a levee.

Indications that no immediate or sweeping changes in the foreign policy of the United States are in contemplation were afforded to-day when Secretary Bryan, without much qualification approved the letters and instructions by wire that went out to the American representatives abroad, in countries where stirring events are happening. It is true that in general this was routine business, but yet it was inferred by the officials of lesser rank than the secretary that President Wilson intends to make a careful study of all the data to be presented to him by Secretary Bryan before making any radical changes in existing policies.

Edgar E. Clark of Iowa, confirmed yesterday as an interstate commerce commissioner, was named to-day as chairman of the commission in succession to Franklin K. Lane, now secretary of the interior. His selection was in conformity with the plan of rotating the office.

Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, to-day presented to President Wilson the resignation of Thomas J. O'Brien, ambassador to Italy. Mr. O'Brien is from Michigan and requested Senator Smith personally to present the resignation.

Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary, started a small precedent-shattering campaign of his own this morning. Mr. Tumulty got to work at 8 o'clock this morning. No one in Washington ever heard of a government employee who got to work so early. Most government officials got to work between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Venezuela Does Not Want Ex-President Who Says He Will Go to Europe

New York, March 6.—An alliance between Colombia, Venezuela and Nicaragua is said by South American consular agents to have been formally entered into by those governments to prevent the return of the deposed President Castro, to Venezuela. Francisco Escobar, consul-general of Colombia, said to-day that his government had three naval vessels patrolling the Colombia coast, which had been instructed to thwart any landing of a Castro force.

General Castro, who arrived in New York last night from Washington, laughed at the reports, reiterating his denial of any intention to engage in fomenting revolution in Venezuela or Nicaragua. He said he would depart shortly to rejoin his family in Europe.

Brownsville, Tex., March 6.—When Mrs. Emilio Madero passed through Brownsville last night from Mexico for San Antonio she declared her brother-in-law, Francisco I. Madero, was killed two days prior to the time given out by the Mexican officials. She asserted his death was attended by horrible suffering and that he was tortured with knife thrusts and cuts over the back.

Douglas, Ariz., March 6.—President Huerta's administration in Mexico has not met with the full approval of the whole country, and civil war is again threatened by the accumulation in many parts of troops opposed to the Huerta administration. Warfare continues briskly in many places between the Huerta troops commanded by generals who are in line with his policy and against the old Madero regime, on the one side and the members of the latter party are scattered widely through the territory of the republic, the government now in power is experiencing a trying time in suppressing them. The widely scattered troops are engaging in a form of guerrilla warfare that has been going on in Mexico more or less for years, and this makes their suppression a difficult problem for the government. The work towards peace was not assisted at all by the conflict which recently occurred on the Arizona border here, and while there have been conflicting reports about it the official one, that it is not of a serious nature is the generally accepted version. General Francisco de la Barra, the foreign minister in the cabinet has announced that the attack was merely the result of a misunderstanding, and had no international significance whatever. American troops are keeping a force on the border line to prevent invasion by the small parties of Mexicans hovering on Mexican soil just across the line.

AGREEABLE SURPRISE OVER MONTREAL LOAN

London, March 6.—Agreeable surprise is the general feeling to-day concerning last night's oversubscription of the Montreal loan. It has been remembered that Montreal happened to have the field to itself. The stock to-day stands at one-eighth to three-eighths premium, which will probably improve. Similar intending borrowers, however, must not be too optimistic. The Daily News and Leader remark that the Montreal issue was cheap without being nasty as compared with other recent Canadian issues.

RELEASE APPLICATION FOR THAW WITHDRAWN

New York, March 6.—A writ of habeas corpus, obtained in behalf of Harry K. Thaw, was suddenly withdrawn at the request of his counsel in the Supreme court to-day. No explanation was offered. Thaw was in court and William Travers Jerome was ready to proceed with the argument against him, when one of Thaw's lawyers announced that he desired to withdraw the proceedings.

Montreal, March 6.—The run on the City and District Bank stopped to-day. Over three millions had been paid out yesterday, but within two hours after opening this morning two hundred thousand dollars had been re-deposited by dissatisfied customers.

RUN ON BANK STOPS

General Castro, who arrived in New York last night from Washington, laughed at the reports reiterating his denial of any intention to engage in some revolution in Venezuela or Nicaragua. He said he would depart shortly to join his family in Europe.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES JAPAN'S AMBASSADOR

Rt. Hon. James Bryce of Great Britain Met Wilson Informally Yesterday

THE MIKADO EXTENDS HIS CONGRATULATIONS

Many March Fourth Sons Are Called Woodrow Wilson by Proud Parents

SECRETARY TUMULTUOUS SHATTERS TRADITION

Washington, D. C., March 6.—President Wilson's second day in the White House found a long engagement list awaiting his attention. Baron Chinda, ambassador from Japan, was the first representative of a foreign power to be received formally. He bore the congratulations of the Japanese Emperor, Ambassador Bryce, of Great Britain, met President Wilson informally yesterday.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, and Frederick C. Penfield, who are being mentioned as likely to become ambassadors to European courts had engagements at the White House later in the day.

Congratulatory telegrams and letters poured into the White House to-day from all over the world. They came from Kings, Emperors and Presidents of foreign republics; from proud fathers and mothers, who announced the birth on March 4 of sons who were to be named Woodrow Wilson; from most of the governors of the states; many mayors of cities and from scores of prominent Democrats throughout the country.

This was Secretary Bryan's first diplomatic day. Custom decrees that when a new secretary of state takes office, the diplomatic corps on the first Thursday of his administration shall call on him formally. Many appeared in full court regalia and the diplomatic reception room of the state department on such occasions presents all the appearance of a levee.

Indications that no immediate or sweeping changes in the foreign policy of the United States are in contemplation were afforded to-day when Secretary Bryan, without much qualification approved the letters and instructions by wire that went out to the American representatives abroad, in countries where stirring events are happening. It is true that in general this was routine business, but yet it was inferred by the officials of lesser rank than the secretary that President Wilson intends to make a careful study of all the data to be presented to him by Secretary Bryan before making any radical changes in existing policies.

Edgar E. Clark of Iowa, confirmed yesterday as an interstate commerce commissioner, was named to-day as chairman of the commission in succession to Franklin K. Lane, now secretary of the interior. His selection was in conformity with the plan of rotating the office.

Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, to-day presented to President Wilson the resignation of Thomas J. O'Brien, ambassador to Italy. Mr. O'Brien is from Michigan and requested Senator Smith personally to present the resignation.

Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary, started a small precedent-shattering campaign of his own this morning. Mr. Tumulty got to work at 8 o'clock this morning. No one in Washington ever heard of a government employee who got to work so early. Most government officials got to work between 9 and 10 o'clock.

FORM ALLIANCE TO KEEP CASTRO AWAY

Venezuela Does Not Want Ex-President Who Says He Will Go to Europe

New York, March 6.—An alliance between Colombia, Venezuela and Nicaragua is said by South American consular agents to have been formally entered into by these governments to prevent the return of the deposed President Castro, to Venezuela. Francisco Escobar, consul-general of Colombia, said to-day that his government had three naval vessels patrolling the Colombia coast, which had been instructed to thwart any landing of a Castro force.

General Castro, who arrived in New York last night from Washington, laughed at the reports reiterating his denial of any intention to engage in some revolution in Venezuela or Nicaragua. He said he would depart shortly to join his family in Europe.

EARL GREY OBTAINS SITE FOR DOMINIONS

Option Taken With Right to Lease for Ninety-Nine Years

London, March 5.—The London County Council has granted Earl Grey a three years' option on the Aldwych site for a term of ninety-nine years at an annual rent of $2,500. Asked who would be responsible for the rental of $2,500 a year during the period of the option, Earl Grey explained that his personal friends, who were directly and indirectly interested, would take the responsibility.

He added that the Overseas Dominions had undertaken to provide the money and had already subscribed $50,000, which was more than sufficient.

Earl Grey stated that he would now consult with the overseas self-governing Dominions with a view to utilization of the site for Imperial purposes. He lays emphasis on the term "self-governing Dominions" because he intends to restrict the negotiations to those Dominions which possess responsible government, and also because he holds the opinion that in the not distant future the Crown colonies and dependencies will be a separate department and have a separate minister.

HERTZOG BREAKING AWAY FROM PARTY

Botha Chosen Leader, His Opponent Plans Formation of New League

Capetown, March 6.—The differences between General Botha and General Hertzog are still occupying the attention of the Nationalist party. At a recent caucus of the Nationalists a large majority declared in favor of General Botha retaining the premiership, and therefore as a party, the Nationalists are supporting General Botha.

It is now said that General Hertzog's adherents are considering the advisability of separating themselves entirely from the Nationalist party. In their opinion the bulk of the Afrikaander constituencies are with General Hertzog, in spite of the fact that the majority in the parliament are against him. Meantime General Botha continues to hold office as premier, and parliamentary business is being carried on under disturbed conditions.

General Botha has issued a statement denying that General Hertzog was left out of the new cabinet owing to his statement that he placed the interests of South Africa before those of the Empire, declaring that he himself and his colleagues agree with that principle. The differences arose as a result of General Hertzog's speech at a general meeting. He declares that since parliament met every effort has been for a solution of the difficulties, but owing to the fact that General Hertzog will only be satisfied if General Botha resigns office as premier the ministers have found it impossible to go further, as they do not agree that such a step would be in the direction of peace.

In answer to General Botha, General Hertzog denies having made the retirement of General Botha an absolute condition of his return, or that the negotiations failed on account of his having taken an absolute stand. He maintains that if General Botha can find honorable terms suitable to himself and General Hertzog, he will be willing to sink all personal feeling and submit to the will of the people. As yet, no allusion to the Botha-Hertzog quarrel has been made in parliament, which, however, is supporting General Botha, mainly on account of the fact that the speech made by General Hertzog at Smithfield was of an outrageous character, but General Hertzog's influence in the country is by no means ended. It is generally felt that the breach between the two leaders is final and that the solidarity of the Nationalist party is thus broken up.

EMILIO MADERO HAS RIDE OF 600 MILES

Brothers of Former Mexican President Arrive at San Antonio

San Antonio, Tex., March 6.—Emilio Madero, reported dead half a dozen times, and Raoul Madero, brother of the late president of Mexico, after a six-hundred-mile horseback ride from Torreon, Mexico, to Marathon, Tex., where they crossed the border, reached San Antonio to-day. Twice during the journey they were attacked, making a running fight of it once and the second time escaping by their servant's superior knowledge of the country. They were met here by Gabriel Madero, another brother, and all will remain in San Antonio until after a conference in New York between Alfonso Madero and other members of the family, now en route from Havana.

T. R. Beltran, friend of the Maderos, who returned to-day from Saltillo, Mexico, says that Governor Carranza has 10,000 men at his disposal, to unseat General Huerta as provisional president of Mexico.

DEPUTY MINISTERS MAY BE RELIEVED

Ottawa, March 6.—The Evening Citizen last night said: "If, in the not distant future, a number of deputy ministers at Ottawa are relieved from their functions there need be no surprise. It is understood that the matter has been under advisement, and it is current gossip that three may go. Possibly with them some higher officials may be dismissed. No final action, however, has yet been taken. There have been complaints that the fidelity of some of these officers to their chiefs admits very much of question, and that departmental information of a confidential character has got out and provided powder for the opposition in parliament. Under the circumstances some action in the not distant future is to be anticipated."

WANT BILL PASSED FOR RAISING FUNDS

Opposition to Amendment of Grand Trunk Bill in Senate

Ottawa, March 6.—The senate yesterday considered in committee the bill authorizing the government to fix the time for completing the prairie section of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which was discussed yesterday and held for information.

Hon. Mr. Loughheed said he had learned where the principle came from. The original act of 1905 provided that the government should fix the time for completion. He gave an assurance that the government and the company both wanted this bill passed to raise funds by disposing of the bonds on the London market. A letter from the solicitor for the company stated this.

Sir George Ross maintained that it is a bad principle to give the government power to make terms and conditions, when extending time for completion. The circumstances were unusual. The bill was needed by the company undoubtedly. It had passed the House of Commons, and if adopted by the senate would become law and the company could get the funds. If the senate amended the bill, as he believed it should be amended, it might not become law for a long time, as it would have to return to the Commons, where the state of business was so uncertain. He therefore would not amend it.

Senator Cloran expressed similar views. Senator Kerr spoke against the principle. The legislation was reported from committee and stands for third reading.

THREE ARE INDICTED IN BURIAL SCANDAL

Estate of Hod Carrier Charged $1,100 for Funeral by Conspirators

Belleville, Ill., March 6.—James Connor when alive carried a hod and worked long and hard to save more than a thousand dollars. His funeral cost his estate $1,100, and because of the great expense three men were indicted to-day—Jailer Michael Kenley, of the East St. Louis police station, an acquaintance of Connors, who directed the undertaker to give the hod carrier an expensive funeral; Undertaker William H. Deagan, who charged the estate $600 for a casket, $4 for shoes, $21 for a suit and $10 for fly nets for the hearse horses, and Public Administrator W. U. Halbert, who paid the bills from Connors' savings. The indictments came after exhumation showed that the casket was of wood and that the body was without shoes or expensive clothing.

A FIREMAN'S PERIL

How Zam-Buk Delivered Him.

At 215 Fraser Ave., Edmonton, Alta., lives W. F. Mahy, a former member of the local fire brigade, who has wonderful cause to be thankful for the curative powers of Zam-Buk. He says: "A serious skin disease broke out on my face and spread until I was in a terrible state. The spots and little ulcers were frightfully irritating, and yet when scratched or rubbed they bled and smarted. Shaving caused me agony, and sometimes I would have to go two weeks without a shave. I tried home-made remedies, herb salves, and various other preparations, but the sores got no better. When Zam-Buk was mentioned I had little faith that it would be able to do me any good. My case seemed such an obstinate one. I gave it a fair trial, however, and the first box made such a wonderful change for the better that it gave me encouragement to continue. I did so, and to cut a long story short, Zam-Buk in the end quite cured me. My face is now clear of all traces of the terrible disease, which troubled me for so long."

Thousands of sufferers from eczema, blood poison, ulcers, chronic sores, piles, ringworm, cold sores, cuts, burns and skin injuries, have been relieved and cured, as was Mr. Mahy, by Zam-Buk. As a balm for all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal. All druggists and stores at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

TWO BILLS ON THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION

Mrs. Pankhurst Breaks Parole—Mrs. Drummond Expresses Opinions

London, March 6.—It is reported that the government has decided to introduce in parliament at a date as early as possible, two bills dealing with the suffrage question. The first will empower the home secretary to exercise the same licensing control over persons committed to prison as he now does over convicts. Thus a suffragette prisoner adopting the hunger strike would be sent to a hospital or a home until her health had been restored, and then would be recommitted to prison. This method would be repeated until the prisoner had served the full term, in which the time out on license would not be counted. The second bill will provide a better procedure for recovering fines and damages from persons convicted of attacks on property, and will modify otherwise the criminal law in the desired direction.

Mrs. Pankhurst made a speech at Cambridge yesterday, at the close of which she was quoted as evidence that she has broken the understanding on which bail was granted to her last week.

She is said to have broken down completely and canceled all her engagements. She will go to the country for rest. This announcement was made last night at a suffragette meeting at Hampstead, where Mrs. Pankhurst was scheduled to speak. "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond took her place.

Mrs. Drummond no sooner began talking than a group of students scattered snuff, starting everybody sneezing. A lively scrimmage ensued between the attendants and the disturbers. Chairs were broken, blows exchanged, and black eyes and bruises were plentiful. In a lull in the disturbance, Mrs. Drummond advised all the municipal electors to vote against the London Council Progressive candidates, as a protest against the conduct of John Burns, president of the local government board, who has been denouncing the suffragettes as tyrannical and militant blackguards.

Later in the speech she said, "The press of this country is inviting the American newspapers, which have so lied about public men, so slandered them, that few decent-minded men are willing to go into political life in America. If the present campaign of calumny continues, this country will end in civic neglect and corruption, for it will repel from public life the sensitive, kindly and respectable men who formerly led the citizens."

It was later announced that Mrs. Pankhurst had gone to Paris for the rest cure. It is said that she will consult with her daughter, Christobel, on the future of the militant movement in the event that she herself is committed to prison as the result of her trial at Old Bailey.

According to the Standard, which has been giving the militant suffragettes freer access to its columns than has any other London paper, the women's past doings are to be totally eclipsed. Operations are promised that will "stagger humanity." All the great public buildings here, such as St. Paul's cathedral, Westminster Abbey and the British museum—are closely watched.

WILSON TO BE ASKED TO PARDON HUSBAND

Mrs. Thompson En Route to Washington to Seek Presidential Clemency

Los Angeles, Cal., March 6.—The first application to President Wilson for a convict's pardon will be made by Mrs. Fred H. Thompson, who left here today for Washington to ask executive clemency for her husband, an attorney, convicted of accepting a safe containing $15,000 stolen from the Los Angeles post office several years ago by Orlando F. Altore. Mrs. Thompson was indicted with her husband and her case is still pending.

Thompson was sentenced to eight years in McNeill's Island prison and an appeal has been denied. His attorneys declare he is suffering from tuberculosis and that a prison term would kill him.

WIRELESS TELLS OF ICEFIELD TRAGEDY

Dr. Mawson Sends Particulars of Deaths of Two of His Party

Sydney, N. S. W., March 6.—Details of the tragic ending of Lieutenant B. E. S. Ninnis, of the Royal Fusiliers Regiment, and Dr. X. Mertz, champion ski jumper of the world, who met death in the frozen South Polar regions while members of the Australian Antarctic expedition, were told in a wireless message received here from Dr. Douglas Mawson, the leader of the expedition, who also suffered great hardship.

The wireless message received from Dr. Mawson, who is now in Adelie Land, says: "On December 4, 1911, while we were exploring a new coast line three hundred miles to the southeast of our winter quarters, Lieutenant Ninnis, with a dog team and with almost all of our food, disappeared in an unfathomable crevasse."

Dr. Mertz and myself, with an inadequate supply of provisions and with six starving dogs, then started over the plateau for our hut. Bad weather retarded our progress, and we subsisted chiefly on dogs.

On January 17, 1912, Dr. Mertz died, the cause of his death arising from malnutrition.

On February 7, I arrived at the hut, having travelled through snow and fog, and having miraculously been guided by Providence through the heavily crevassed areas.

The steamer Aurora waited at the base until the weather conditions made it no longer safe. She left a few hours before my arrival at the hut. Six men were left here by the Aurora to prosecute a search for the members of our party."

MISS TAFT FINDS KING VICTOR'S GIFT

"Neemic" Arrives at Relative's House at Early Hour and Demands Entrance

Washington, D. C., March 6.—Neemie, Miss Helen Taft's Italian poodle, which strayed from the White House on Tuesday and for which the police of Washington have made unremitting search, was found early today. A maid in the home of Miss Taft's aunt, Mrs. Thomas Laughlin, was awakened by the shrill barking of the dog and let him in. A telegram was dispatched at once to Miss Taft asking whether Neemie should be shipped at once to Augusta, Ga., where the Taft family now is, or whether it should be kept here until they come north again.

The dog, to which Miss Taft is much attached, was given by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy to former Secretary of the Navy Meyer. Secretary Meyer presented the animal to Miss Taft.

SUTRO OBTAINS THE FIRST AERO LICENSE

San Francisco, March 6.—The first hydroplane license issued by the Aero Club of America under the new rules was received today by Adolph G. Sutro, nephew of former Mayor Adolph Sutro, of San Francisco. The young aviator has made many flights in this city, and has flown over the bay and across the Golden Gate on several occasions. Accompanying the license was a letter of congratulation from Mortimer Delano, secretary of the club.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS ACT.

A critical examination of the act to amend the Provincial Elections Act, which was rushed through the legislature in its dying hours without adequate consideration and discussion, will reveal the real motive of the government. The ostensible reason for the legislation was the necessity for a new voters' list, which is a good reason, but the legislation is so framed as to place the government in the administration of the act, in the position of the gambler who plays the game with loaded dice. We direct attention to some glaring instances of injustice in this ill-considered legislation.

By sub-section 3 of section 11 it is provided that the former voters' lists which by this act are cancelled shall be used should any election take place before the new voters' lists have been compiled, certified and printed. In the usual course the new lists are compiled and printed within a few weeks after the court of revision is held in the month of May. Should an election, Dominion or Provincial, take place before they are printed the old lists would be used. The printing of the new lists will be in the hands of the Provincial Secretary without any restrictions as to time, etc. The result is that should an election take place this summer the government could survey the situation and if they desired they could delay the printing and use the old lists, or if the new lists would better serve their purpose they would expedite the printing and make use of them. Therefore, should an election be held this summer the old lists might possibly be used; yet there is no opportunity of revising them at the approaching May court, nor will the thousands of electors throughout the province who have in the regular way filed applications since last November find themselves entitled to exercise the franchise.

In order to be on the new voters' lists for the May revision, so that electors may be sure of having the privilege of exercising the franchise in the event of an election occurring during the coming summer, it is absolutely necessary that applications should be in the hands of the registrar within the limited period between March 3 and April 7 next, the last day for receiving applications for the May court. It is obviously impossible for all the electors in this province—in fact physically impossible—to file their applications within this limited time. The government, with their army of officials in every nook and corner in the province, practically all of whom are commissioners although paid to do other work, will, as is known from past experience, devote their exclusive attention to this duty, giving their party a tremendous advantage in obtaining registration. As above stated, under this amendment the new lists may be used should an election take place this year if it suits their purpose to do so. A greater outrage can scarcely be conceived.

Section 5 of the act as amended deals with the handling of objections to the list of voters as compiled after each revision in May and November. Under the old act any elector could file an objection to the retention of the name of any person on the voters' list who had not the necessary qualifications. These objections have been numerous in the past, and will be equally numerous in the future, because under the act, as now amended, there is nothing to prevent the filing of the lists with fictitious names. Under the old act when an objection was lodged with the registrar he was compelled to send a notice addressed to the person objected to at his last known place of residence, so that he might appear and sustain his right to have his name retained on the list. The registrar was also called upon to publish for three weeks the names of all voters objected to in one or more weekly newspapers, or once a week for three weeks in one or more daily newspapers, circulating in the district. By the present amended act these names will not now be published in the newspapers, with the result that there will be no intimation to the public or to the party organization that a certain number of names are objected to. Experience has shown that it has been the practice of the Conservative machine in this province to file objections to the retention of the names of many Liberals who were duly qualified, trusting that they would not turn up at the court of revision, and their names would be struck off. As a matter of fact when an objection was filed the burden was on the party objected to to assert his right to remain on the list, instead of compelling the objector to sustain his objections. The result is that, particularly in the rural districts, many may be objected to who, either through indifference or through living too remotely from the registrar's office, will not appear and their names will be struck off. In fact, many objected to who know that there is no ground for the objection and that they are duly qualified will decline to appear, believing that their names cannot be removed. Under these circumstances the publication of the names enabled the party associations to scrutinize the list objected to and take measures to prevent any person duly qualified from being struck off. Under the amendment this list will no longer be published, with the obvious result. It is true the objections were so numerous in the past that the publication of the list objected to was a matter of considerable expense. This could very well be obviated if the objector was compelled, as he should be, to sustain his objection on oath before being able to displace the name of a man who had already taken the oath of qualification.

Perhaps the most glaring injustice is inflicted by section 5 of the new act, whereby sub-section 5 of section 11 of the old act is struck out and the following substituted therefor: "In the case of the first register of voters the same, made up as above, shall be certified by the said registrar and forwarded forthwith to the provincial secretary, who may order the same to be printed, and the said register of voters shall be the list used at any election which may take place before the next revision has been completed." Under the former act, when the voters' lists were compiled after each revision and certified by the registrar, it had to be forwarded to the king's printer, who was compelled to print the same, and by section 20 of the old act the king's printer was bound to furnish, for 25 cents a copy, printed lists for any electoral district. Under the present amended act it is discretionary with the provincial secretary whether the lists will be printed or not after each revision. The government, as we have known from past experience, have declined to furnish parties with printed copies of the last revised voters' lists as required by law. Now the act is so worded that they are not obliged to print them, and may simply do so on the eve of an election when the least possible use can be made of them by their opponents. It will be seen readily that under this new act it will be impossible for opponents of the government, who are not furnished with lists after each court of revision, to intelligently revise them on the two dates in the year set apart for that purpose. There is only one way provided by the new act whereby an elector may obtain a copy after each revision, and that is under section 9, which provides that the registrars of voters shall furnish written copies of the list, or any part thereof, for the sum of 25 cents per one hundred words. Assuming that there are 8,000 registered voters in the city of Victoria, and each name on the list, with description, etc., will take up about four words, it will cost eighty dollars for anyone to obtain one complete copy of the voters' list for this city. A more brazen attempt to prevent the public from seeing and examining and correcting voters' lists until the eve of an election can hardly be conceived.

Further, by section 11 of the new act, the registrar of voters—a government official—if he is not satisfied that any applicant, although he may swear he is duly qualified, is entitled to be on the list, may summon the applicant before him and call upon him to produce more satisfactory proof, or if he fails to attend in answer to this demand his name may be struck off. It would appear that by the use of this section the right to vote at all may be denied one duly qualified by some unscrupulous minion of the government.

ASHAMED?

We are informed that subsequent to its second reading an amendment was inserted in the act to amend the constitution providing that the provisions extending the legislative term shall not apply to the present house. The bill as it passed the two readings contained no such clause and the Premier's explanation when he moved the second reading quite clearly expressed the intention of extending the term of the existing assembly. The amendment must have been inserted when the bill was reported to the house. No reference to it appears in the press reports of the proceedings as far as we can discover. All this goes to show that when important bills are rushed through the house at the rate of ten or fifteen a sitting it is humanly impossible for the press representatives or the members themselves to keep track of them. Fortunately, this provision is a good one, and as it was inserted, no doubt, in consequence of the criticism of the opposition members and press, we are quite ready to commend it. But it occurs to us that other amendments of a less favorable character may have slipped through unnoticed in the general confusion.

A dispatch from Ottawa hints at the impending dismissal of several deputy ministers who were appointed by the late administration. This is a sure sign that the party followers are uneasy over the prospect of an early election and want to get "placed" before anything happens. Should the deputies referred to be dismissed, they would be in retirement only a short time. They would return to their offices as soon as the people kicked the Rogers-Pelletier combination off the treasury benches. When the Liberals were returned in 1896 they retained all the deputy ministers appointed by the previous administration. A return recently brought down shows that Nationalist Pelletier dismissed five hundred Liberal appointees in three months, and Mr. Borden has stated in the House that it would take eighteen months to compile a list of all the dismissals by his administration to date. And one of the planks of the Conservative platform loftily advocates civil service reform! Some time ago a convict was liberated from the penitentiary to fill a government job.

An agitation has arisen in Germany for the construction of four more Dreadnoughts to offset the ships Canada and the Malay States are offering for service in European waters. It is pointed out that they will give Britain a greater margin of superiority over the German navy than Mr. Churchill says is necessary, and which Admiral von Tirpitz is willing to accept. There could be no objection if these ships were used for the protection of British interests in other waters. In other words, not only are the three Canadian ships not required for the protection of British interests in Europe, but they make excellent campaign material for the armor-plated press of Germany to stimulate the German government to additional ship construction. They will be a burden, not a help; a source of discord, not an instrument for peace. And yet Mr. Borden is determined that Dreadnoughts paid for by Canadians shall not be used for the protection of Canada.

Recently the New Zealand government informed the Colonial Office that if it was thought desirable to retain H. M. S. New Zealand in European waters the Dominion would readily consent to the vessel's world tour being postponed. To this Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt replied:

"I am happy to be able to assure you that there are no strategic or political necessities for such a decision, and that the battle-cruiser which bears the name and was provided by the patriotism of the government and people of New Zealand can proceed on her appointed course."

"I am, however, desired by His Majesty's government to express through you to the Prime Minister and government of New Zealand their deep gratitude for the offer made, which they are happy to find it is not, under existing circumstances, necessary to adopt."

In other words, the ship can easily be spared. There is no emergency except in Mr. Borden's imagination. The Admiralty memorandum bears out this view.

The act to incorporate the Canadian Medical Protective Association has undergone considerable amendment in the House of Commons. The clause providing that the objects of the association shall be "to encourage the honorable practice of medicine and to assist in the suppression and prosecution of unauthorized practice," was amended to read simply "to encourage the honorable practice of medicine."

"To promote and support legislative measures likely to benefit the medical profession," was changed to "to promote and support all measures likely to improve the practice of medicine."

The "machine" is working already in the preparation of the new voters' lists. Persons who are suspected of being Liberals have been refused the blank forms required in taking the declarations of qualified electors. The excuse is that thousands of these necessary forms are on order from other points and that such requirements first must be met. The organization has its model, that of Hon. "Bob" Rogers in Manitoba, "beaten to a frazzle."

THE REAL THING.

From the Review of Reviews.
John Lane, the well known publisher, said at a literary dinner in New York: "As an editor I find nobody so persistent as the amateur contributor. If the amateur were half as ingenious in writing his material as in trying to land it he would be a Dickens in no time. An amateur said the other day to an editor I know: 'Allow me to submit this story.' '25-cent readers don't care for bear stories,' said the editor. 'They want something else.' 'But this,' said the amateur, 'is a story about a cinnamon bear.'"

FORMS SCARCE FOR THE REGISTRATION

Not Enough Have Been Printed to Go Around in Present Conditions

LIBERALS WILL OPEN OFFICE DOWN TOWN

Local Liberal Association Offices Are Available Daily for Registration

The Liberal commissioners are finding it difficult to secure forms for affidavits for admission to the provincial voters' lists, which have all to be made up afresh owing to the new legislation.

It appears that the number printed, roughly 75,000, is inadequate to meet the demands of the party agents throughout the province, and although they are being printed as fast as possible, the opposition commissioners will be greatly crippled by not getting them in time for the closing day, April 7.

It is feared that many claimants may be left off the list upon the numbers by accident or deliberately the number of forms has been underestimated. The offices of the Victoria Liberal Association will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily, and a commissioner will be present to receive registrations.

At a meeting of the association last evening it was decided to open an office in the downtown district during the registration period, and to divide the city up into districts for the purpose of an effective canvass. Another meeting is to be held to-morrow to make further arrangements. It should be borne in mind that everyone must re-register on this occasion.

The labor organizations are also looking after their members, and a commissioner is available at the Labor hall for the purpose of receiving applications from British subjects, who comply with the residence qualification.

Young Victoria Lady Married Yesterday—Tour of Coast Cities.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Henderson, Granite street, Oak Bay, was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, when Isabel Jane, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, was united in wedlock to Mr. Albert B. Scott, of Cupar, Sask. The bride, who was given away by her father, was very beautifully gowned in pale blue duchess satin trimmed with Valenciennes lace. She carried a large bouquet of white roses, and wore a handsome cameo brooch, the gift of the groom. Her bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude Butchart, of Vancouver, was dressed in lavender silk mull, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and roses. Mr. N. H. Van Deen acted as groomsmen. The bride's mother, Mrs. Henderson, wore a gown of elephant grey mancelau satin with ornaments of gold. Miss Huggan, an aunt of the bride, wearing black silk with white trimmings and black sequins. Among those who witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. R. A. Macconnell, were a number of the more immediate relatives and friends of the young couple, who were the recipients of many very handsome wedding gifts.

Shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Scott left by the afternoon boat for a trip through Seattle and the coast cities, prior to leaving for their future home in Cupar, Sask. The new municipality area is owned almost exclusively by the Western Canadian Lumber Company.

The Perfect Records by the World's Greatest Artist BONCI

If you have a disc-playing instrument you want these numbers above all others, because they represent the best recordings ever made of the exquisitely beautiful voice of the greatest of all vocal artists, Alessandro Bonci. They will remain as a monument to his superb ability.

"Che Gelida Manua" (How Cold Your Hands) La Boheme, (Puccini) in Italian, with orchestra.
"Uni Furtiva Lagrima" (A Furtive Tear) L'Elisir D'Amore, (Donizetti) in Italian, with orchestra.

Single Records $2 Each

Both on Double-Disc, $3

In the world of opera, one name stands out clean-cut and distinct, above all others in its class, as a synonym for everything that is faultless and exquisite in vocal art—that of Alessandro Bonci.

Bonci is an artist of consummate power and skill by virtue of his own most exceptional intelligence, and a tenor of rarest talent by grace of God.

Bonci's voice is a pure, high lyric tenor—not a made-over baritone or a tenor robusto—nevertheless, in every exaction of an immense fortissimo passage, where quality is so often subordinated to noise, it dominates the uproar of the brass, however strident, with that clear, searching, ringing brilliancy that is a perpetual delight.

Bonci's work is the standard in the great operatic tenor roles. That others should suffer in comparison with him should not be laid to their charge; it should rather be held to be their inevitable misfortune.

SEND PRINCESS MARY
TO GRANBY BAY SOON

Is to Be Relieved on Vancouver
Run by Princess Royal,
Which is Overhauling

Within the next few days the C. P. R. will resume its weekly run out of Vancouver to Prince Rupert and Granby Bay. A meeting of officials of the company was held yesterday, and the summer schedules for the big fleet of vessels will be all out for publication. The Princess Mary, it is understood, is to be withdrawn from the Victoria-Vancouver service, and placed on the Granby Bay run. The steamer Princess Royal is to be the relief boat, and will go to Vancouver when the Princess Adelaide is relieving the ferry vessel on the triangular run. The Princess Alice will be through with her repair work about the middle of the month, and she is expected that the Sophia will be allowed to Skagway in a short time to allow the Princess May to undergo her annual overhaul, prior to taking care of the big tourist business which is looked for on the Skagway run this summer.

Princess Royal Overhauled.
This morning the Princess Royal was hauled out on the Victoria Machinery Depot ways to have her hull cleaned and painted. For the past week workmen have been engaged on the Royal preparing her for service, and it is expected by officials of the C. P. R. that the service that she will be ready to relieve the Princess Mary about the middle of next week.

All coasting companies are now busy overhauling their vessels so as to have them in the best possible shape to take care of the great number of passengers who will go north this spring and summer. The C. P. R., especially, looks for an enormous rush of men to Granby Bay. The companies engaging in the coasting trade are losing no opportunity to secure all the business they possibly can, and are including all the towns of any size between Victoria and Vancouver and the Alaska boundary line in their schedule. This year's business is expected to smash all former records.

MARU ARRIVES HERE

AFTER FINE VOYAGE

Mexico Had Bad Fire Aboard
on Her Last Outward Trip—
Much Cargo for Victoria

Completing a good voyage from the Orient, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Mexico Maru, Capt. Kobayashi, reached William Head this afternoon at 4 o'clock and is berthing at the outer docks at 5 o'clock. The Mexico Maru is the steamship which on her last outward voyage from Victoria, had a disastrous fire in No. 2 hold, during which many days the cotton stored below burned briskly. Immediately after the fire was discovered attempts were made to smother it, and steam was pumped into the holds. When it was believed the fire had been subdued the hatch was opened, but the cotton at once burst out into flame. The hatch was again battened down and upon arrival at Yokohama the fire was extinguished.

The Mexico has crossed the Pacific in fair time and it was reported by wireless that she was experiencing fine weather. The Osaka line will discharge 800 tons of cargo at Victoria and will get away for the Sound till nearly daylight in the morning. A number of Orientals will disembark at this port.

LILLOOET PREPARES FOR A LONG CRUISE

Survey Steamer Now in Dry-dock at Esquimalt Having
New Propellers Fitted

GOES TO HECATE STRAIT
AND DIXON'S ENTRANCE

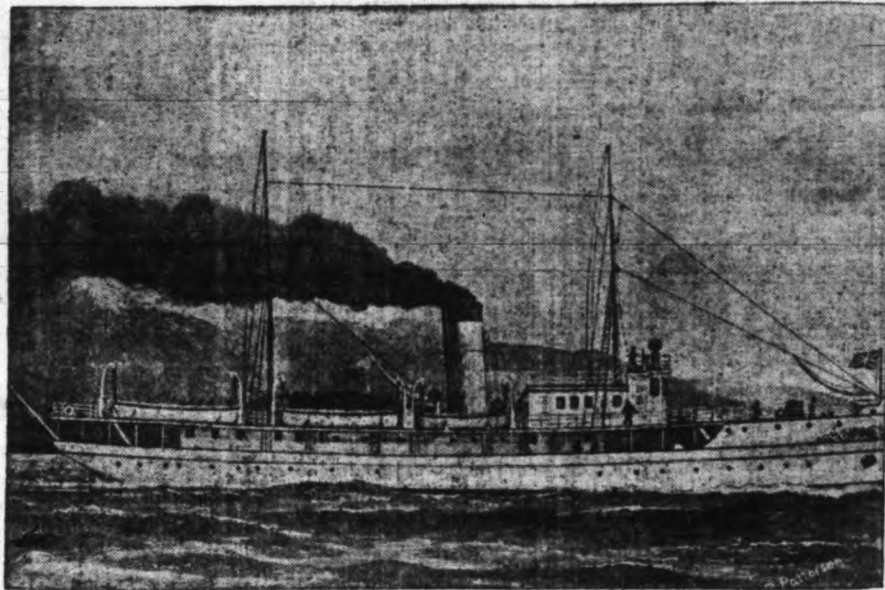

Vessel Will Probably Leave
Esquimalt About April 9 and
Be Absent Till November

Work has commenced in overhauling and outfitting the hydrographic steamer Lillooet, Capt. Musgrave, for her annual surveying cruise in British Columbia waters. The trim little vessel was floated into drydock yesterday afternoon, and while she is on the stocks two propellers of new design will be fitted to her shafts. She will be in dock about three or four days, after which she will proceed to her buoy at Esquimalt and complete outfitting for the cruise.

This year the Lillooet will clear on her nine months' cruise about April 9. It is understood that she will spend the greater part of her time taking soundings and surveying Hecate Strait and Dixon's Entrance. As soon as the G. T. P. transcontinental railroad is completed and Prince Rupert becomes a shipping port, the Strait and entrance will be traversed by numerous vessels. In order that these waters might be well charted by the time that ships are running into Prince Rupert the Dominion government issued instructions several years ago for a thorough survey to be made.

Will Be Good Waterways.
Dixon's Entrance and Hecate Strait will be used by vessels making Prince Rupert from the Orient and all other parts of the globe. A light of the first order is now in the course of construction at Langara Island, and this will be the first light picked up by ships

The Lillooet will not return from her cruise until about the beginning of November of this year. Capt. Musgrave will go out as master of the vessel. He has been engaged in this work for many years, and has accomplished much to render the navigation of the waterways on this coast less difficult and trying to mariners. His reports compiled at the end of cruises have always contained a valuable amount of data, and some of the results of these are the establishment of new aids to navigation on this coast.

FAILS TO BURN LIGHTS AND SOUND BELL, IS FINED $500

Portland, March 6.—Complaint has been made against the Norwegian steamship Bangor, loaded by the China Import & Export Lumber Company, for an alleged failure to sound a fog bell and have lights on a barge alongside Friday night when she was at Rainier. Custom house authorities at Astoria assessed a fine of $500 against the vessel, and as she was ready for sea a bond was given so she could proceed, but Mr. Kirchoff, agent for the cargo owner, says it will be fought, and he thinks the money will be refunded.

"The Bangor was anchored in the stream at the time and we have depositions to the effect that a light burned on the barge and that the fog bell was rung," said Mr. Kirchoff. "The master is an unusual type of a man, married to an American, and thoroughly competent, and the complaint is a poor show of courtesy of an American sailor toward a foreigner."

PAYING OFF OF CREW WAS DIFFICULT WORK

Seamen on Estevan Were Mixed Lot—Created
Some Trouble

Signing off the crew of the new light-house tender Estevan, which arrived in port on Tuesday, proved one of the toughest propositions Capt. Geo. Kirkendall, shipping master, has undertaken for some time. Yesterday afternoon eight of the seamen were paid off and it took all this morning to complete the task of signing off the remainder of the crew. The men were quarrelsome and did some squabbling over the amount of wages which were paid them. Most of them were under the influence of liquor.

When the Estevan left Collingwood, she had a good crew, but upon reaching Montreal most of the men left her. It was late in the season when she reached the St. Lawrence port and most of the good seamen had left for Halifax and the other ports at which the ocean

UNIQUE DISTINGUISHING
MARK OF BIG CONCERNS

Peculiar Prefixes and Endings
Enable People to Tell to
What Lines Ships Belong

Nearly all lines of steamships are distinguishable one from another, not only by their house flags and outward paintings, such as the color of their funnels, but also by their names. It is usual with companies, when incorporated, to settle on some system of naming their vessels so that people will easily be able to distinguish their ships. The White Star liners' names all end in "ic," the Cunard liners in "ia," the Weir liners in "ric," C. P. R. ocean vessels have the word Empress prefixed, and there is also the "Mont" line, while their coasting boats here are called after Princesses; Allan liners end in "ian;" Japanese liners all have the word "Maru" attached; there is a "Crown" fleet, a "Queen" fleet, and many others of similar names.

The Blue Funnel liners, which are quite distinguishable, owing to the mammoth blue funnels which rise to a lofty height from their decks, are all named after ancient gods, or great heroes, who fell in the great battles of Greece and Italy. After delving into the mysterious books of the Times library, the Marine Editor has traced the derivation of some of the Blue Funnel liners which have come to this port.

Went to Heaven, Then to—
"Ixtion," the newest of the liners, which will arrive here in a week from England, in ancient Greek legend, was a king of the Lapithae, in Thessaly. He treacherously murdered his father-in-law, and as no mortal would purify him, Zeus took him to heaven and purified him there. For attempting the virtue of Hera he was bound in fetters to an ever-rolling wheel.

"Protesilaus," in ancient Greek legend, a Thessalian, who joined the expedition against Troy, was the first man to leap upon the Trojan shore. He was killed by Hector. He and his wife, Laodamia, were famous for their mutual affection.

"Antiochus," which liner was in port on Monday, was one of the heroes of the Trojan war, son of Nestor and friend of Achilles, renowned for bravery and beauty. He fell in a battle while trying to save the life of his father, but was revenged by Achilles. The ashes of the three friends, Antiochus, Achilles and Patroclus, were placed in the same grave near the Hellespont.

"Teucer," in Greek legend, was a son of the river-god Scamander and the nymph Ideia, and the first king of Troy. From him the name of Teucer is often given to the Trojans. A second Teucer was the son of Telamon of Salamis. With his half-brother Ajax he went to the siege of Troy and there distinguished himself by his archery. On his return Telamon expelled him for having failed to avenge the death of Ajax. He emigrated to Cyprus, and founded the town of Salamis.

"Titan" is Saturn's sixth and largest satellite, discovered by Huggins in 1855. It has a diameter of about 2,000 miles, and revolves round its primary at a distance of 771,000 miles in a period of nearly sixteen days.

Cyclops Were Monsters.
"Cyclops" a mythical race of monsters, of vast stature and strength, who had only one eye, placed in the middle of their foreheads. The name Cyclops (round-eye) alludes to this feature. Homer represents them in the Odyssey as a race of wild and lawless shepherds living in the Isle of Trinacria, which has generally been identified with Sicily. Their leader was Polyphemus, who Odysseus blinded.

FIRST CODFISHER SAILS.

The schooner City of Papete is taking on provisions and is expected to follow the Galilee within a few days.

HOLLAND-AMERICA SHIPS HEADQUARTERS TO COAST

Seattle, March 6.—In preparation for the tremendous freight and immigrant trade which is expected at the port of Seattle as a result of the opening of the Panama canal the Holland-America Steamship Company has shifted its Western America headquarters from Chicago to Seattle and yesterday appointed David Brattstrom, of 888 Second avenue, as general passenger agent for the Pacific coast.

Brattstrom's territory will cover the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho and his appointment of a general agent for the line in the west, which heretofore has been represented by sub-agents subject to the Chicago office.

BERT LINDSAY IN HOSPITAL

Senators' Crack Goal-Tend May Not Be Able to Play Tomorrow Night at New Westminster—Rowe to Replace Him in Nets

Bert Lindsay, the Senators' star net guard, rated the best on the coast, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital last night, and he may not be able to take his place between the poles when the Victoria septette face the Royals at New Westminster to-morrow night. Lindsay is now in the hands of physicians, but they are doubtful if he will be able to play. He was struck in the groin by the puck two weeks ago, and the injury has been troubling him ever since. Last night he was taken very ill, and Goldie Rodgers, his room mate, rushed him to the hospital. Lindsay, however, says that he will play, but Manager Patrick will certainly not send his crack goal-tender into the game unless he is in shape to play. It is probable that Bobbie Rowe, who was formerly a goal-tend, will don the pads for to-morrow night. Rowe played goal in the O. H. A., and ought to be able to fill the bill, though Lindsay's absence will be severely felt. The team worked out at the Arena this afternoon, and will take the ice against New Westminster with the same lineup that played Vancouver here on Tuesday night, with the exception of Lindsay. Happy Smith, who filled in at goal for New Westminster when Hugh Lehman, suffered from eye trouble earlier in the year, is also mentioned as a candidate for the goal position. W. Griffith and Jack MacDonald will probably handle the game, and the Senators will leave by the morning boat for Vancouver.

RELIANCE MAY DEFEND TROPHY FOR SECOND TIME

New York, March 6.—The report of a fourth challenge from Sir Thomas Lipton for the America's cup under conditions which compel its acceptance was received with much interest at the New York Yacht Club, although official notification was lacking. With the receipt of the formal challenge it will be laid before the next meeting of the club, March 27.

The sloop Reliance, which was the last defender and has been on the ways at City Island for nine years and a half, is in as good condition as when she was launched ten years ago. Whether the club will rely on the Reliance or on some new boat is a matter which rests with the members. Trial races for the selection of a defender probably will be held before a new boat is built. There is a possibility also that the challenge may call for a schooner.

If a race is sailed in 1914 it will be the thirteenth since the cup was won by the America at Cowes in 1851.

HOODOO CLAIMS ANOTHER

BERT LINDSAY

Latest victim of the "jinx" that is following the Senators this year. He may not be able to play to-morrow at New Westminster.

WANDERERS OBJECT TO TOURISTS

Lichtenhein Threatens to Bar All Players Who Come to the Coast—N. H. A. Clubs Lost Heavily

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 6.—President Lichtenhein, of the Wanderer Hockey Club, was in town yesterday with his team. He pays them off to-morrow, and figures on a $2,000 deficit. The Wanderers object strenuously to Quebec and an all-star team going to the coast in view of several jumping players from the N. H. A. being out there. Mr. Lichtenhein is so strong on the matter that he has declared to his players that if any of them go he will never allow them to wear a Wanderer uniform again. His objection to the Quebecs going is that, notwithstanding the fact that five clubs of the six have given consent, it is contrary to the N. H. A. law. As a matter of fact, the N. H. A. idea is to force a commission or rather an agreement on the Coast League fixing a salary limit and allowing no further raids either one way or the other. Mr. Lichtenhein, however, bars Johnson, who broke his contract. Every N. H. A. team lost money this year except the Canadiens, and possibly the Tecumsehs, according to the magnates.

KELLY BEATEN.

St. Louis, March 6.—Ray Bronson, of Indianapolis, welterweight champion claimant, knocked out Leo Kelly, of St. Louis, in the second round of their scheduled eight-round fight. The first round was hard fought, and Kelly knocked down the Indianapolis fighter once. This was Kelly's first fight as a welterweight.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM COMING.

New York, March 6.—Given the choice of several local polo practice grounds, the English players who will try again next summer to defeat the Americans have chosen the Piping Rock Club, on Long Island, as their headquarters. The visitors will arrive the middle of May.

DRAW CONTEST.

London, Eng., March 6.—In the Southern League, Brighton played to a draw with Brentford, the score being 2 to 2.

QUEBEC CLUB AGAIN DEFEATS OTTAWA TEAM

Quebec, March 6.—The Pacific Coast champions will go home if they beat the Quebec N. H. A. champions in the games for the world's title on the Coast the latter part of the month. At the present time the Quebecs are going at whitened pace. There seems to be no means of stopping them. Last Sunday they established a record of ten straight wins and last night they added to this by beating the Ottawas, 5 to 1.

ALL-STAR DATES

Vancouver, B. C., March 6.—The all-star aggregation from various teams in the National Hockey Association will visit the coast this month. Frank Patrick announced last night that he had wired to Art Ross, who is promoting the trip of the Eastern all-stars, telling him to bring his collection out as soon as he wanted to. The first game will be played here on March 23, and the second in New Westminster on March 27. The third game will be played on March 29, and will be played either in this city or in Victoria.

SOX IN SHAPE.

Oakland, Cal., March 6.—The Chicago American League team, which has been training at Paso Robles, arrived in Oakland early to-day to open

PROPOSED SCHEDULE NEXT WEEK

Should New Westminster defeat Victoria to-morrow night at the Salmon Bellies arena, the Senators will clash with the Royals once more at the Willows. Lester Patrick stated this morning that an agreement had been arrived at whereby two of New Westminster's postponed games will be played off, one at Vancouver and the other at Victoria. The Royals, therefore, will play Vancouver at the Terminal City next Tuesday, should they defeat Victoria to-morrow night. By playing Victoria here, next Friday night and meeting Vancouver at New Westminster the following Tuesday, the postponed games will be played off and the slate cleared for the all-star games and the Quebec series the third week in March.

Revised Schedule.
The revised schedule, depending upon to-morrow night's game, is as follows:
March 11—Westminster at Vancouver.
March 14—Westminster at Victoria.
March 18—Vancouver at Westminster.

Tickets for the postponed games will be printed just as soon as to-morrow night's result is known and placed on sale immediately. A victory for the Senators to-morrow night will call off the above games, and the Mainland-Victoria series will be gone ahead with.

NO CHALLENGE YET RECEIVED

New York, March 6.—Mail from England was delivered at the New York Yacht Club to-day, but did not include the packet containing Sir Thomas Lipton's fourth challenge for the America's cup. The steamship Oceanic, on which the challenge was delivered, docked last night. It was explained that the Lipton communication was doubtless registered matter and would not be delivered until later in the day.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Quebec Team Wins Eleven Straight.

That it is possible for a team to win consistently under the six-man rules has been demonstrated by Quebec Hockey Club, champions of the National Hockey Association for the second year in succession, who, by their victory over the Ottawas club last night, completed their eleventh victory since they started climbing after the N. H. A. honors away back in January. Joe Malone's team were bad at the first of the season, and even had Joe Hall suspended for a time, but they are travelling at top speed right now and look the best balanced sextette in the N. H. A. Just how they compare with Victoria is a matter that will be decided when these teams clash here the end of this month. Victoria boasts of perfect team play, combined with a wonderful defence. Quebec has the finest scoring machine in the N. H. A., and also the best defence record. It will be a real battle of giants, with the edge resting with the Senators because of the fact that they will play on home ice.

To-morrow Night's Fistic Carnival.
Twelve amateur bouts comprise the card that Billy Davies, the J. B. A. A. promoter, offers local boxing fans at the Victoria theatre to-morrow night. The programme contains the best that can be secured in the line of amateurs and headed by such a bout as that between Belmont and Davies will furnish, should provide a lot of action. The bantams, the cleverest pair in this section of the country, will virtually decide the coast title, and great interest is being taken in this event. Belmont is being touted to win because of his ring experience, and from the press notices that have been sent along concerning this star, he should give Davies an interesting battle. The local boy, however, carries a kick in either mitt that would do credit to a lightweight, and it is the Davies slumber punch that the J. B. A. A. fans are pinning their hopes on to land the honors. Any way, it will be some fight.

Canada and the Davis Cup.
It may seem an ambitious project to send a Canadian challenging team to England for the Davis Cup, representing the world's championship, but it is a praiseworthy ambition. Our tennis may not be good enough to assure victory, but the same outcome will fall to every competing country but one, and the effort must be of benefit to the Canadian game. While our challenge has gone forward, the team is still to be selected, but on that there is a general consensus, so far as can be seen, that Messrs. J. G. Hayes, R. B. Powell and R. F. Schwenger should compose it. Other names that were submitted include Capt. Foulkes, of Victoria, B. C.; Capt. C. E. Grant, A. B. Wiswell and Ed. Foster, of Halifax; Dr. G. McDonald, of New Glasgow, N. S.; W. N. Rice, of Sydney Mines; C. B. Ross, of Sydney; Mr. Evans, of Vancouver, and T. M. McAirt, of St. John.

WINDY CITY STAR CAPTURES SINGLE EVENT

Toledo, Ohio, March 6.—When the two-men and individual events in the American Bowling Congress tournament were concluded for the day it was seen that Louis Wilson and W. Christy, of Excelsior Springs, Mo., had taken second place in the two-men events with a count of 1,233 pins.

In the individual S. Sobieski, of Des Moines, Ia., ran up 553 pins, which placed him second in that event. A number of six hundred scores were rolled in the individual event, but they failed to get among the leaders.

Individual leaders: Spencer, Chicago, 658; Sobieski, Des Moines, 653; Marsha, Springfield, 651; Wagner, Cincinnati, 648; Howley, Chicago, 645. Two-men events: Mountain-Carlson, Chicago, 1,377; Wilson-Christy, Excelsior Springs, 1,233; Royer-Ashley, Sioux City, 1,247; Haas-Carr, Fort Wayne, 1,247; Jackson-Moore, Fort Wayne, 1,230; Radyl-Karikel, Chicago, 1,216.

WILL JOH WILL HANDLE BOUT

New York, March 6.—Protests made by Jack Britton's manager over the choice of William Joh as referee for the bout between Britton and Packy McFarland to-morrow night is overruled by a decision of the state athletic commission to which the dispute had been referred. The members of the commission decided that there was no good reason why Joh, the regular official of the Garden Athletic Club, should be set aside in favor of another referee. The protest, it is said, will not be further pressed.

STILL AT IT.

Atlanta, Ga., March 6.—Battling Nelson and Frankie Whitney, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, fought ten rounds here last night. By previous agreement no decision was rendered. Neither fighter gained a knockdown.

CONCANNON SIGNS.

Tacoma, Wash., March 6.—Pitcher Concannon, who made a noise like a "holdout" during the winter season, yesterday saw the great white light of reason and sent in his signed contract.

WEEK-END FOOTBALL FIXTURES

First Division—S. O. E. vs. Wards, Beacon Hill (lower); referee, J. Allen. West vs. Thistles, Beacon Hill (upper); referee, D. J. Hogan. J. B. A. vs. Garrison, Oak Bay; referee, W. Wilson.

CHURCH LEAGUE BASKETBALL

A good game of basketball is promised for this evening at the Y. M. C. A. when the teams representing First Baptist Brotherhood and Congregational "Men's Own" meet for the second time in the Sunday School Athletic League. In the last game the "Men's Own" won out by a score of 14-9, but the Baptists have improved wonderfully since then. The game will not commence until 9 o'clock, and teams will line up as follows: Congregational—R. Wilkerson and R. E. Crompton (Capt.) forwards; Clinton Hills, centre; H. G. Andrews and A. R. Hodges, guards.

WOMEN CANNOT COMPETE UNDER AMATEUR BODY

San Francisco, March 6.—Secretary James E. Sullivan, of the Amateur Athletic Union, of the United States, wants to know why women are permitted to compete in Pacific Association swimming meets. The A. A. U. he writes, refuses to recognize women athletes, as no one can take part in an A. A. U. meet unless registered. Women's swimming races are by no means new on the Pacific coast, though they never have been officially sanctioned by the local branch of the A. A. U.

ELIMINATION GAME.

Toronto, March 6.—Varsity and Toronto have decided to play next week in the Allan cup elimination to decide which team will go west. The trustees of the Allan cup have been notified to this effect.

PHOENIX WON.

Nelson, B. C., March 6.—The Phoenix hockey team defeated Nelson 4 to 3 and won The Daily News and Sir Richard McBride trophies, emblematic of the championship of the interior of British Columbia.

WANT TOURNEY.

Portland is after the 1914 Northwest Bowling Congress tourney. When delegates gather in April the claims of the Rose City for the first annual gathering of the allies experts will be advanced by a sound of from ten to twenty men.

REAL COMEBACK HOCKEY STARS CLEAN SWEEP

Proving that their defeat at the hands of Vancouver was no criterion of their true form, the Victoria Hockey Club—bowling—quintette took three straight from the leading Telephone trynders last night. The scores were the highest of the year, Maxwell and Lindsay, especially being in great fettle. Scores:

BASEBALL BOMB

Chicago, March 6.—President B. B. Johnson, of the American League, is said to have a bomb ready for hurling into the ranks of ball players scribes in his organization. It was learned last night that the league's executive was about to issue an edict which would either stop ball players from writing expert opinion for newspapers or stop their salaries.

Soccer Notes

By Saturday's performance the Wests deserve to again win the Island League trophy.

Ed. Taylor was the star of the North Ward eleven against the Wests. He was like a stone wall blocking the net.

Cyril Baker's shot that tied the score in the Ward-West game was a terrific drive. Few of the fans saw it enter the net.

Wylie again proved the bad man for the Garrison against the S. O. E. when he tallied the only goal of the game.

The Thistles expect to beat the Wests this week. They will have to travel faster than they ever did before if they expect to accomplish this feat.

Dickie proved to be the star on the Thistle forward line Saturday against the J. B. A. A. eleven. He scored the only goal.

Lou McDonald played a good game for the Wests against his former team mates, the Wards.

Fairclough was the star performer for the Empress in their game with the Fifth Regiment.

Lane, of the Wards, missed the Victoria West open-net when he had a grand chance to score.

The following will represent the Empress Soccer Club on Saturday: R. Leeder, D. Fletcher (captain), E. W. Falconer, Dispecker.

Ildene, today, Fairclough, C. Fletcher, H. Scott and R. Kennedy.

Seaford a Specialty every Friday at the Kaiserhof.

ALL WANT COAST CLUBS

Invitations are being showered upon the Victoria team, and in this morning's mail, Lester Patrick received offers of games from Billy Field, of Winnipeg, and also from Nelson, the town made famous as the home of the Patriots when they first landed on the coast. The Winnipeg proposition was to have the Quebec team and an All-Star coast sextette, or the Victoria Champions, play a series at the "Peg. A percentage basis was offered, but no guarantee, and as other series have been arranged for on the coast, there is no probability of the games being played.

RACE IN 1914.

London, March 6.—Sir Thomas Lipton states that it was necessary to put off the race until 1914, as it would take him all that time to build his yacht and get ready. He might, he said, build two yachts. The present Shamrock IV, is also a possibility. She won seven out of eight international races in which it competed in Germany last season and twenty-three out of thirty local races.

RAYLEY WILL

MEET REILLY

AT STEVESTON

Charlie Reilly is anxious to meet Joe Rayley on March 28 and has wired asking that he be given a match with the champion at Steveston on that date. It is the intention of the promoters to erect an Arena at Steveston, just outside of Vancouver, and plans are now being rushed for that structure. In Rayley's fight with Vaise, at Seattle, he assured but the date is not yet settled. It is probable that special rates will be secured to allow Victoria fans to witness this bout.

Manager Condon stated this morning that he was agreeable to the Steveston bout, providing the financial arrangements were suitable to him. He will also ask for a side bet.

A DOG STORY.

A dog story that is quite a true one was told me by a friend the other day. The friend in question, who lives in Piccadilly, has a favorite dachshund. A few weeks ago she was about to start for Cannes, and, loth to leave her pet with servants, asked a sister living in Pont-street to take him in whilst she was away. The dog pined all through her three weeks' absence. There came a telegram from his mistress early in January, "I return on the seventh," and the sister read out the telegram, it changed, in the dog's presence. On the seventh he disappeared, and for twenty-four hours his mistress sought, or had him sought, in vain. It happened that the real mistress stayed a day in Paris, and, after all, did not return until the eighth of the month. An hour or so before she arrived at her home in Piccadilly the dog was there on the doorstep, foot-sore and covered with mud, to await her. It would be very curious to learn by what processes he acquired his knowledge of her definite return. Gentlewoman.

PUSS BY PARCEL POST.

As he was making his rounds Thomas Jessup, a mail carrier, stopped at a large package mail box and opened it. He was badly scared when a black cat jumped out. The feline was caught by the carrier, and he was surprised to find a tag about its neck, on which had been placed parcel post stamps. The cat had clawed the tag so that the name of the sender and the person to whom it was being sent could not be ascertained.

While Jessup was wondering what to do the cat put up a fight for freedom and clawed him so badly that he was forced to let it go. That was the last seen of the cat and the parcel post stamps. —New York Herald.

MAN THAT BROKE BANK AT MONTE CARLO

How Jaggers Scooped Up £120,000 by an Extraordinary System

In the history of Monte Carlo (writes C. N. Williamson in McClure's Magazine) Jaggers has become almost legendary.

He was an Englishman, whose photograph is the one person now left at Monte Carlo who seems to have known him. He was an intelligent mechanic or engineer from the north of England. He was not a gambler, but he had heard of Monte Carlo and of the wonderful roulette-wheels so ingeniously made that no one could beat them.

Curiosity took him there when he had put together a little money and earned a holiday.

He did not intend to play. It was the wheels themselves that he wished to see. When he found that he was not supposed to keep a seat at the table and watch the game for any length of time without playing, in order to study it in peace in his scientific way he began to venture a few five-franc pieces.

He had a favorite table where he happened to feel more at home than at any other; and, while laboriously taking down numbers in order to make a record, he hit upon an astonishing discovery.

Some of the numbers appeared more often in a day's play of about five hundred coups than they had a right to do mathematically, according to the laws of chance. Jaggers continued his tests for several days, until he was satisfied that the particular roulette-wheel under his observation had some mechanical defect—that it was not truly balanced, but had a bias in one direction which caused the ball to fall more often in one quarter of the cylinder than in the others.

Not a word had the silent man of the north spoken to any one of his first suspicions or final discovery. On the fault, not of roulette in general as a game, but of this roulette-wheel in particular, did Jaggers then, and there, found his unscientific but amazingly successful "system."

He decided to risk in the venture all the money he had, knowing that though he must fail occasionally, he ought to win far oftener than he lost. At first he played quietly, with small stakes.

Then he increased them until soon he was playing with maximums on the wheel's favorite numbers, and winning immense sums of money.

Feeling sure of his ground, Jaggers now engaged a staff of men to play for him, taking their turns at the table as the croupiers do, and his wins continued till the Casino authorities became seriously alarmed.

Never had the Casino, in the whole history of gambling at Monte Carlo (then comparatively short), suffered so severely in its hitherto impregnable pockets. Seeing that Jaggers always played at the same table, the management removed the cylinder from that table at night and transferred it to another. Jaggers, however, was not a hard-headed Yorkshireman for nothing. He had expected every morning to find that luck had suddenly deserted him because his wheel of fortune was lost to him for ever among a wilderness of other wheels useless for his "system."

His eyes were sharpened by the knowledge that a pin's point of difference was life or death to his interests, and he had observed on his cylinder a tiny white speck by which he could identify it among many others apparently alike.

Each morning on arriving at the table, he placed at the wheel and made sure of the white speck before beginning "work"; and, on the day after the secret exchange, hovering inspectors saw the terrible Jaggers reducing his great stakes to a few paltry five-franc pieces.

Presently he rose, to try the same small game at another table, and so on, until his eyes lighted upon the blessed speck. Then he and his staff of clerks began to plunge again.

The "system" began to seem supernatural, and in a few months Jaggers had taken from the Casino the unprecedented sum of £120,000. The authorities began to suspect that all the cylinders were imperfect. The matter was sent for, and each wheel was subjected to a rigid scrutiny.

The faulty one was discovered and taken away, and next morning Jaggers' tide of fortune turned. For a few days he went on playing, and lost back to the Casino some £40,000 of his enormous winnings. Then he was wise enough to see that he was beaten. He discharged his staff, ceased play, and retired with the comfortable sum of £80,000 intact.

PATRIOTIC PRIEST OF FRANCE DEAD

Abbe Theure, Who Distinguished Himself in the War With Germany

From Charles comes news of the death of the Abbe Theure of Loigny, a patriotic priest, who distinguished himself during the war of 1870 and was called by General de Sonts "The Good Samaritan." He was credited by General Barry with having saved in December, 1870, the army of the Loire. The Abbe gave important information to Captain Botton, commanding the Hussars, concerning the concentration of a large army around Loigny. He had gathered the information from conversations of the German officers which he had overheard. This led to the prompt action of Charette and Sonts around Loigny on December 2.

General Barry afterwards wrote to the Abbe and said: "Your name is at the head of those who on that day defended France." In 1902 the Abbe Theure was honored by a special ceremony when the civic crown was conferred upon him by the Societe Nationale d'Encouragement au Bien. He had at the outset of the battle around Loigny gathered all the aged people into the church, and had at the risk of his life twice climbed to the top of the steeple to hoist a Red Cross flag.

He hurried in the midst of the battle to the rescue of three hundred villagers and wounded who had taken shelter in some farm buildings to which the Germans were about to set fire. He called upon the German officers and explained to them that only wounded and non-combatants were in the buildings. The French government conferred on him the decoration of the Legion of Honor, and the Pope granted him several ecclesiastical distinctions. The cross of the Legion of Honor has been lately bestowed on Baroness James de Rothschild and Colonel Teyssier. Colonel Teyssier, the famous commander of Biche, who held out against the German armies during the entire Franco-German war, is now in his ninety-second year, living retired at Aibi, his birthplace, and his prowess is being recalled to the public mind by the high distinction which can be conferred on him—namely, his promotion from the rank of commander to that of grand officer of the Legion of Honor.

The decree mentions that at his retirement the colonel had seen thirty-eight years of active service, that he had been in five campaigns, and had been four times wounded. His native town, Aibi, decided a year ago to erect a statue in his honor. Colonel Teyssier defended Biche against the Bavarian troops from August 7, 1870, till March 27, 1871, with a small force of 2,000 men. When Biche opened its gates at last the armistice had already been signed for more than two months, and the Assembly Nationale had been sitting for one month and had ratified the preliminaries for the treaty of peace. Baroness James de Rothschild has received the cross of the Legion of Honor. It is superfluous for those who know her work to say that the honor is merited. She has spent her whole life in the service of those whom life has in mind or body been bruised or broken. At Chantilly, at Gournay, at Bigny, at Berck-sur-Mer her name and her deeds are a household word. The sanatorium at Bigny is largely the result of her generous inspiration, and many children whom an enfeebled constitution and the air of cities had robbed of their strength owe their restoration to health to the bounty which enabled them to spend the winter months by the sea. The hospital at Berck-sur-Mer, indeed, was and is one of Baroness James de Rothschild's special cares. Another institution in whose fortune she takes a particular interest in the Nurses' Training College in the Rue Vercingetorix, of which she has been the main support. These are only one of two of the public channels through which Baroness James de Rothschild's purse has overflowed. Besides, there are numberless cases where, without anyone being aware, she has brought succor where it was needed. M. Guist'hau's is the national recognition of a life of unselfish devotion. The cross of the Legion of Honor has also been awarded to Madame Balleah, who has written many notable articles in the Figaro above the signature of "Femina."

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

By a Specialist.

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientific states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you. Get 2 ozs. of ordinary Lavona de Compose (a well known and inexpensive herb extract), and mix half of it with 6 ozs. of common Bay Rum and 1/4 drachm (about 10 cts. worth) of Menthol Crystals in an 8 oz. bottle. After three days use, the other half of the Lavona should be added, to properly increase the strength of the compound when hair growth begins. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

Caution: Do not apply where hair is not desired, and be sure to avoid tonics containing poisonous wood alcohol.

LAWYERS SQUABBLE IN POLICE COURT

City Prosecutor Unable to Interview Owners in Theft Cases Against Raines

COUNSEL FOR DEFENCE ASKED FOR DISMISSAL

One Charge Was Dismissed and Other Remanded on Counsel's Undertaking

When the case of Sidney H. Raines, accused of the theft of a revolver, was called in police court this morning City Prosecutor Harrison announced that he was unable to go on as the owner of the revolver had exhibited marked reluctance to be interviewed by him, and had ignored a request to call at his office about the case.

"My friend does not state the facts in their entirety," objected C. B. S. Phelan, counsel for the accused. "Mr. Shelden called at the prosecutor's office, and was told that Mr. Harrison could not see him as he was too busy." "Well, there may be an error on both sides," admitted Mr. Harrison, "but I am not ready to go on until I have interviewed this man, and I am sorry to say that he has appeared most reluctant to see me, and I fear does not want to testify."

"I oppose this remand, your Honor," Mr. Phelan said again. "My client has been in custody for 10 days already, and I am here with four witnesses and whom I have had here twice now, and can't expect to come every day. There is another charge of an overcoat. Is my friend ready to go on with that?" "As I outlined to the court before, the owner is at Qualicum, and I have been unable to get in touch with him."

"Just as I thought," interrupted Mr. Phelan. "That is why the crown wants a remand. I have the owner of the property here, and he will go in the box. As a matter of fact," and Mr. Phelan launched into an address upon the case when he was interrupted by Mr. Harrison.

"I object to my friend addressing this court upon the merits until this question of a remand is disposed of. I cannot go on until I see the owner of this property on account of the nature of certain statements which have been made to me."

Was Acquitted. "My client is a gentleman by birth, and has committed no theft," said Mr. Phelan, "and should not be kept in jail waiting for the crown in this way."

"I object," learned friend kept quiet. "I cannot hear argument on the merits of the case now," decided the magistrate. "Stand the case over to the foot of the list."

After the other cases were all disposed of Raines' trial was proceeded with, and resulted in acquittal on the charge of stealing the overcoat. "My friend has had ten days to get this witness in the coat case, and I venture to say he never will get him," said Mr. Phelan. "I ask that this case also be dismissed."

Mr. Harrison pointed out that ball had been fixed, and accordingly on the assurance that a special messenger would be sent to Qualicum for the witness the case was remanded till Monday. Raines in the meantime coming out on bail.

In the case of the revolver the owner could not identify the object, and a man named Dorin, who was found guilty the other day of several thefts was the only witness against Raines. He said that when he entered Shelden's apartment he found Raines with the revolver in his possession.

The magistrate said it was quite within the range of possibility that Dorin had stolen the revolver himself as it was he who pawned it.

CLAIMS PROSECUTOR EAGER TO CONVICT

W. C. Moresby Makes Emphatic Statement About Crown Officer

COMMENT AROSE DURING TRIAL OF ASSAULT CASE

Magistrate Deplores Conditions Disclosed Re Johnson Street Snake Show

"The crown attorney knows he has a weak case and is doing his duty in this trial but he is trying to get a conviction because he hates to lose," declared W. C. Moresby in police court this morning in opening his address to the magistrate after the evidence was completed relating to a charge of assault against Peter Northberg.

The duty of the crown is to bring out all the facts both against and for the accused and my friend has not done this because he is so eager to get convictions. Northberg was charged with assaulting Mrs. Louise Carlin, wife of the manager of the snake show at 543 Johnson street, and the charge was dismissed.

"It is a matter for public regret," said the magistrate, "that such an institution should be carried on under a municipal license and I hope it will not continue much longer after this evidence."

Northberg was said by Mrs. Carlin to have attempted to embrace her as he was coming from the show and to have made improper proposals to her. The defence was that Northberg had been there before and had acquired reason to believe that the place was one of immoral resort. No assault was proved, it was contended.

GIRL INSULTED IN PARK. That the recent action of the police commissioners in ordering Beacon Hill park to be patrolled was well justified is confirmed by an incident reported to the police within the past few days. Last night a young lady was "haunted" by a group of Italians.

SUFFERED
EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following,
which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion."—Mrs.

HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago
I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble.

"My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse.
To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little specks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated.

"I cannot say too much for Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial."—Mrs. STE-PHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario,
Canada.

Richard McBride on matters affecting the government policy in his district.

Fred. Welsh came to the capital yesterday after a trip from Chichester, England. He is staying at the Ritz hotel.

W. G. Everett arrived in the city yesterday, completing a tour which brought him from Lowestoft, England.
While spending a short time in the city he is a guest at the Ritz hotel.

George J. Mackenzie, representing Klaw & Erlanger in the Pacific Northwest, with headquarters in Seattle, is staying at the Empress hotel. He is here on business connected with the new theatre.

Ernest Miller, member for Grand Forks, has returned from a visit to ernment appointment.

SUCCESS

By GEORGE MATHEW ADAMS

In Success, defeat is but an incident.
Obstacles, stumbling blocks, disappointment in ideals—these things weave into and form the fabric of Success. For Success is a series of failures—put to flight.

Learn to walk past Failure.
A few years ago a young man stood behind a New England counter as a Clerk. Quiet, honest, faithful, yet a Failure in the eyes of his Employer, who one day drew aside the father of the boy and advised that the son be taken back to the farm for he never would become a Merchant. To-day if you will walk down State street,
Chicago, you will behold this young man's monument—a tribute to the failures, disappointments and iron persistence of Marshall Field, who died the greatest Merchant in the World.

Learn to walk past Failure.
But Success isn't measured in tangible assets. Lincoln left next to nothing in money standards. His success, though, is the marvel and inspiration of the Ages.

Learn to walk past Failure.
Success is largely a matter of personal viewpoint. It is impossible for you to fail permanently if you determine to Succeed. Let each new day of your life then, take invoice of its own self. Let it chalk up the Failures with the Successes—let it mark plainly the Record. But inside of your own consciousness let nothing take from the image of your mind, the Knowledge that real Success consists wholly in sacrificing temporarily in repeated failures that you may win permanently in worth while Deeds done.

Learn to walk past Failure.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT

By RUTH CAMERON

"Oh, dear, I've got to entertain the Martins next week," I heard a young matron say the other day. "How I dread it!"

I think I must have looked a bit
surprised at this
inopportune remark, for she
promptly apologized. "It isn't that I don't like
to entertain
them," she said,
"but it's the first
time they will come to my new home, and you know they are so much better off
than I and have such lovely things. Of course, our little home is pretty and I love it, but they have beautiful china and embroideries and expensive furniture and loads of silver, and we have so little.
I just love to entertain them, only I don't feel as if I had much to offer."

How many hostesses approach entertainment in that spirit, and what a travesty on hospitality it is!

"Give whatever you have to give, to some it may prove better than you know" has been said in regard to charity. It seems to me it is an equally good description of the right kind of hospitality.

This over-anxious hostess is a remarkably good cook. Having been entertained by her much dreaded guests,
I know she can get up a far better meal than her servant, and a meal that no one with a palate would help enjoying.

Now she knows this, too. Then, why shouldn't she be content in having that to give, and not fret because the silver and china and linen from which she is to serve this meal will be somewhat less expensive than that to which her guests are accustomed?

We all have different gifts in hospitality just as in other directions, and the wise hostess concentrates in exercising her own gift to the full, and doesn't waste energy in fretting over what she lacks.

I know one woman who has a very
shabby home and such an ill-furnished cure that she always serves the simplest of repasts. And yet she is one of the most popular hostesses that I know, because she has the fine gift of getting congenial people together and bringing out the best that is in them.

To another unpretentious home we all love to go because it has such a restful, old-time atmosphere, such an aroma of serenity, as it were, that one comes away rested and refreshed in spirit from a sojourn within its walls.

And yet another hostess wins us
by the freedom from formality and stiffness which is always a characteristic of her entertaining.

Give the best you have to your guests, and give it freely, and that will surely content any guest who is worth the having.

WE GIVE IT FREE TO THE AILING

The whole story of Electro-Vigor can not be told in an advertisement. If you appreciate the blessings of good health send for our book, which we give free to all those who ask for it, and read about this wonderful invention—what it is and what it does. We do not claim that we discovered galvanic electricity; we do claim that we were among the very first to discover its curative power when properly used, and we have figured out the best way of applying this wonderful force to the body so as to restore its nervous power—its vitality—and we say that when people's vitality is up to standard they are strangers to feebleness, pains, aches and disease. The world looks bright to them—they are happy.

Do you believe that you can build up the vitality of your body with drugs? Does it look reasonable? Ever use Electricity? We mean did you ever use it right—applied in the form of Galvanism—infused into your system hours at a time—all night long? That's the way to get the right effect from this wonderful remedy. That's Electro-Vigor. Poor or rich, you can not afford to be sick. You want to enjoy life. You don't want to be a cipher. You want to be strong.

Electro-Vigor Co.
 Vancouver, B. C.
 Dear Sirs,—Your kind letter received and I am glad to tell you that I am feeling stronger every day since I began using your Electro-Vigor. I thank you very much.
 Yours truly,
 MRS. J. C. McINNIS.

 Gentlemen,—In answer to yours regarding my health: as I have not used the appliance for about four weeks, I can say that I am completely cured. Faithfully yours,

Then if you are suffering from any weakness of your body; if the vital tone of your system is below par, you should get acquainted with the Electro-Vigor and what it is doing. Electro-Vigor is not like an ordinary electric bell. It produces a continual current of Galvanic Electricity; requires no recharging; is always ready for use; can be used night or day. MONTREAL BONDS SALE IS WELCOMED LOCALLY

Is Regarded as Clearing of Clouded Air in London Financial Circles

It will be welcome news that at last the cloud of depression which had settled down on the London money market shows a tendency to lift, and the sale of over seven million dollars' worth of city of Montreal registered stock, bearing interest at four and a half per cent., will be heralded as a willingness to absorb Canadian municipal securities. However, the despatch published to-day dissipates any wild dreams of the market being immediately straightened out, by mentioning that fifteen million dollars' worth of debentures remain to be disposed of at the present time in this class of security alone.

Still the sale of a large block of stock like the Montreal issue, it is pointed out, goes to demonstrate the desirability of putting large values on the market at once. The manner in which the cold shoulder has been given to the Toronto issue at four per cent., it is held, justifies this city, before going on the market with a large bond issue, in having obtained validating legislation for the raising of the interest by one-half per cent. to bring it into conformity with most of the Canadian cities, which are floating debentures on the London market to-day. The comptroller has stood out strongly for a large issue, consolidating all those at present outstanding, and also the local improvement issues, which can be floated with the work now finally completed. Hand to mouth financing, such as the city has been compelled to resort to since October, 1911, when the last block of debentures was placed on the market, has not proved satisfactory, but has been inevitable on account of the huge paving programme inaugurated in that year, and the trust that the boom would continue. The risk was taken, and then wars and rumors of wars, and pressure from other countries which are still in the formative stages, forced the hand of the London financiers, who became more discriminating and critical of London issues.

The city should be in a position shortly to place the large issue contemplated on the market, and the comptroller is working to that end now, consolidating issues of various kinds.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

It is bad for a man when he cannot be sober, or when he will not study, nor work, nor pray, nor think, nor weep, all when occasion requires; but the worst for a man is when he can no more play the fool a little. The essence of sanity is the power to be insane at moments; the essence of reason is the ability to act deliberately, rationally now and then; and the essence of being genuinely moral and religious when there is need is the art of being paganism non-moral when there is no call to be otherwise.

Perhaps our wisest, most inspired moments are those of our folly. The jester, at the king's court, was the nearest of all to being a philosopher and a prophet. It is when we let the soul go, to work its wayward will, and wing its random way, in laughter and recklessness, that we discover ourselves, our real nature appears, and the hidden instincts that move the springs of life come out, like fairies that have been invisible by day and appear at midnight moonlight to dance in the forest green.

To play the fool is dangerous. That is because it is so important. The wisest man is the one who knows when and how to be unwise.

RETAIL CLERKS WILL ORGANIZE TO-NIGHT

Meeting is Set at Labor Hall—Settlement of Painters' Strike Expected

A mass meeting of the retail clerks of the city, not limited to any special industry, will be held this evening at the Labor hall. The intention is to organize a body sufficiently representative in character to have definite weight with the employers, and particularly to agitate for a weekly half holiday. The organization will be without outside influence, as no charter could be obtained which would be sufficiently comprehensive in its character to embrace all forms of work by salesmen and clerks.

Among the speakers will be President A. Watchman, of the Trades and Labor Council, and the members of the organizing committee of that council. The wagon workers have organized provisionally and a charter for the local union has been applied for. This will make about 42 unions in the city, of which some 36 are affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council.

At the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last evening it was decided to 'take the opinion of the local unions as to supporting the Victoria carnival week.

It is understood that the legal defence bureau inaugurated by the Trades and Labor Council recently is making good progress, and that a number of the men are applying to the council's solicitor for advice in lien and similar cases.

Promise of settlement of the painters' strike, in which there are some 40 men out, is made by the announcement that the employers, who have not so far fallen into line in making the 50 cents advance per day, are willing to take part in a conference with the men's representatives with a view to reaching a settlement.

RUMMAGE SALE DRAWS CROWD OF BUYERS

Annual Event of Anti-Tuberculosis Society Proves Unusually Successful

What promises to prove one of the most successful rummage sales ever held in the city under the auspices of the Senior Anti-Tuberculosis Society, commenced yesterday morning at old St. John's school-room, Herald street. No sooner had the doors opened than a crowd of people who had been waiting outside for some time in anticipation of the hour, pressed into the room, rapidly buying up the immense collection of clothes, boots, hats, and other useful things kindly donated to the committee for the annual sale. Throughout the day purchasers continued to arrive, and the vast collection of books, suits, slippers, lamps, pictures, ear-trumpets, millinery, clocks and bric-a-brac rapidly dwindled, so that by the close of the day it had shrunk to about half its original size.

The rummage sale is an annual event, and those helping on the present occasion include the president, Mrs. Frank Barnard; the vice-president, Mrs. Stuart Robertson; and the other ladies of the organization. Three other ladies, who, while not members of the organization, have shown their sympathy with the good work by generously lending their assistance are Miss Bodwell, Miss Little and Miss Prior. The proceeds of the sale, which concludes at 5 o'clock to-day, is anticipated, will prove larger than ever before, and will be devoted to the Tranquille Sanatorium maintenance fund, which the society has done so much toward augmenting. Such articles of clothing as remain unsold at the close of the sale will be given to the Friendly Help Association to dispose of.

GAVE ARTISTIC RECITAL

Members of St. Andrew's Church Choir Pleased Large Audience.—The Numbers.

Another interesting and very carefully prepared sacred recital was given last evening at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, by the choir, quite a large audience being present to enjoy the various excellently rendered selections which composed the programme. Opening with Guilmant's composition for the organ, Finale from Sonata in D Minor, the choirmaster and organist, Jesse A. Longfield, gave one of his masterly renderings of a beautiful work, this being followed by the anthem, "Sing, O Heavens," by Sullivan, which was very effectively given by the choir, J. O. Dunford taking the tenor solo. The programme throughout was most artistically given, the choir giving two other anthems during the evening, Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," in which Mrs. Codd took the soprano solo; and Gounod's "By Babylon's Wave," this last number forming a dignified conclusion to a most artistic recital. Other numbers given during the evening were "Unto the Hills," sung by Mrs. Codd; "In Heavenly Love Abiding," in duet by Mrs. Beck and Mr. Melville; the beautiful Brunhild solo, "Hear Me When I Call," sung by Mrs. Longfield; Stainer's duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd," sung by Mrs. Longfield and Mr. Ross; the quartette, "The King of Love," sung by Mrs. Codd, Mrs. Longfield, Messrs. Morridge, and Codd; and two magnificent bass solos by Mr. Codd, Russell's "In Memoriam," and Campanella's "Dei Profunda." In duet with Mrs. Cooke Mr. Longfield gave a very fine performance of Renner's "Oferloire in D."

ARTIST TALKS OF EARLY ART IN ITALY

At the meeting of the Island Arts and Crafts Club, held last evening at the Alexandra Club, Dr. Hasell, the president, who presided as chairman, announced that the Sketch Club would meet hereafter on Monday evenings instead of Tuesdays. He also announced that the School of Handicraft and Design, 719 Courtney street, was ready for occupancy, and that they were only waiting for some cases of materials and instruments to arrive before formally opening the school. The feature of the evening's proceedings was the address given by Miss Crocker on "Early Art in Italy," and additional point was given to her remarks about St. Francis of Assisi, Giotto, and other early masters of painting, by the photographs of pictures executed by these old Italian painters and the churches in which they were found.

The real awakening of art in Italy, said the speaker, was in the time of St. Francis, who was born at Assisi, in the beautiful Umbrian plain, in the year 1182. The beautiful character of St. Francis, who, from being one of the most popular young men in Assisi, suddenly became a devout priest as the result of a vision, was responsible for many of the early inspirations in art. Added to this was the mystery and romance of the valley with its grey olive groves and vineyards, its quaint towns with their narrow crooked streets, and the romantic spirit infused through the factional wars which were constantly chafing the people. The first great Italian painter to give expression to the thoughts inspired by all these things was Cimabue, a nobleman's son, who was commissioned to decorate the church of St. Francis at Assisi, and gave to history some works of art which were a decided improvement on those which characterized the period. It was Cimabue, too, who discovered and educated Giotto, a shepherd's son, who soon surpassed his master, and among other paintings wonderful for their time, executed that of St. Francis preaching to the birds. Later Giotto went to Padua, and became a great friend of Dante. He was also made a master painter at Florence, which he did much in beautifying the cathedral. Conjointly with Brunelleschi, the architect, and another of the artists of the period in this respect, this cathedral was beautifully designed and decorated. At the close of her interesting talk C. V. Cummings, seconded by Mrs. Cuppage, moved a vote of thanks, to which Mr. Shallcross, on behalf of Mrs. Crocker, suitably replied.

THE FATAL PRICE OF RULING MEXICO

BEFORE MADERO FIVE RULERS WERE SLAIN

Two Emperors Were Shot Dead—One Was an Arch-duke of Austria

It is just two years beyond the century since Mexico set itself in the path of republican government. In that time the list of those who have held rule over Mexico and have come to death at the hands of their rivals or by act of what has purported to be constituted authority is long enough to attract attention. The century is one long chapter of turmoil and insurrection; it has its long roll of those who have fallen in the attempt to wrest power from those who held it; unsuccessful in their revolts, it would be a difficult task to discover their names and their deeds in the records of the usual course of common events in the republic of the Aztec eagle, where a failed life counts for little.

There is sufficient in the list of those whose revolts have succeeded, who have come to power as constitutional, as is wholesome south of the Rio Grande, who have paid the penalty of their greatness. This roll of the dead begins with the furious priest who remains in memory as the liberator of Mexico; it includes both the emperors who sought to set themselves on the throne of the Montezumas, and its last entry is in ink scarcely dry, for it was made but recently. The earliest landmark in the history of Spain in its vice-royalty of Mexico is the "Noche triste," when blood reddened the lake in the combat on the causeway; from that sad and bitter night has drawn on a lengthening series of bitter nights and days which this chronicle but briefly sketches.

First victim of the rule over turbulent Mexico, which he clutched from the cruel, feeble hands of Spain, was the liberator, Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla, parish priest of Dolores, near Guanajuato, rector of the small college of San Nicolas, but victorious general. In 1810 the rule of the viceroys and the provincial governors lay heavy on all Mexicans, heaviest upon the lowly folk, who had neither station in life nor the wealth which would qualify them to join the ranks of the oppressors and grow fat on the woes of the peedy. An obscure country priest in a small village, ministering to the wants of the lowly, Hidalgo was filled with the zeal of the patriot. He conspired with his own parish, he stirred his Indians to the verge of outbreak, and then held them in check awaiting the moment when he might deal a telling blow. His conspiracy spread in its humble channels to other parishes and other villages in his own state of Guanajuato. It crept among the corn between this state and then came to the ears of the ruling class.

Word came to him that some of his conspirators had been arrested, and that his project was known to the government. This was on September 16, 1810. He rang the bell of his own church to call his people to war. Standing before them with the standard of Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe, Mexico's own miracle, he swore their faith to the "Grito de Dolores," the battle cry "Long live religion. Long live our Holy Mother of Guadalupe. Long live America and Death to bad government." At once he had an army of 50,000 men and with this force he advanced upon the Spaniards. Taking Guanajuato and Guadalajara, he was proclaimed president by his patriots, flushed with the excitement of driving the royal forces before them. Thus he pressed on toward Mexico, with constantly increasing numbers, until he had a following of 100,000. Patriots they were, but undisciplined, therefore unable to resist the attack of 6,000 veteran soldiers of Spain, who delivered a crushing defeat January 17, 1811. For the next half year Hidalgo was a fugitive in the mountains, yet always stinging the Spaniards in unrelenting guerrilla raids until he was caught at Chihuahua and shot on July 30, 1811.

The second figure of Mexican independence was also a priest, a student under Hidalgo in the little college of San Nicolas, at Dolores, Jose Maria Morelos y Pavon. After the death of his leader this curate of a village parish earned his designation, "the hero of a hundred battles." In the winter of 1811 his victorious sweep through the south and west paralyzed the Spanish power. For half of February and all of March and April, 1812, with but 5,500 men he held the town of Cuatla against a superior force under the command of a Peninsular general, and in the end when he could no longer hold the town he cut a path through the enemy. In October he took Orizaba. In November he delivered a victorious assault upon Oaxaca and in August, 1813, Acapulco capitulated after a siege. Proclaimed president by his victorious army he called a congress at Chilpancingo, which issued the Mexican declaration of independence, and erected a Republican government. Then came defeats in the field at Valadolid and Puruaran, and then the treachery of one of his companions delivered him into the hands of the Spaniards and he was shot in the City of Mexico, December 21 or 22, 1815.

The sweep of the movement for independence caught a Spanish soldier of fortune, Francisco Xavier Mina, and put him at the head of the government struggling into being. After release from military confinement in France, he learned in England of the growth of Mexican independence. Coming to the United States he recruited a band of adventurers, 300 strong, in Galveston and New Orleans and entered Mexico under arms in April, 1817, at Soto Marina, in the state of Tamaulipas. Town after town yielded to his summons or to his attack. Spanish generals fell away before him as the Mexican patriots rallied to the standard. He also was proclaimed to the dangerous honor and paid the penalty of his predecessors. He was surprised by a force which he could not resist, taken captive to Mexico and shot to death November 11, 1817.

Brief in career, unsuccessful in his ambitions, these three had aimed at the headship of a constitutional state, presidents by pronouncement, which, when successful, in the southern republic has all the validity of popular choice. The next upon the death roll was an emperor, the first since Guatemala, just three centuries earlier.

This was Augustin de Iturbide, who in 1821 in the Plan of Iguala proposed the independence of Mexico under the rule of one of the Spanish princes of the house of Bourbon as emperor. This project was virtually ratified when the acting Viceroy Juan O'Donoghue, entered into treaty with Iturbide and the Aztec crown was offered to Ferdinand VII. On receipt of the news of his triumph, Iturbide proclaimed himself emperor on May 19, 1822, and was crowned on July 21. His inveterate cruelty endeared him to his own soldiers but earned for him the hatred of Mexicans in general. His term as emperor scarcely lasted a year, for Santa Anna proclaimed the republic, and in March, 1823, Iturbide presented his abdication to the congress, which he had already dissolved in violation of the constitutional provisions. A pension of $25,000 a year was granted him and a mild decree of exile ordered him to live in Italy. He returned to Mexico in ignorance of a decree of outlawry which had been pronounced upon him. He landed in disguise at Soto Marina, was immediately apprehended as a fugitive enemy and was shot on July 19, 1824, at Padilla, in the state of Tamaulipas.

In the succeeding years of the fairly established Mexican Republic, under the political dominance of Gen. Santa Anna, few presidents were allowed to serve out the constitutional term. But none was shot, since it seemed more satisfactory to let each ex-president run away.

The next execution of a ruler came after a gap of forty-three years, and put the end to the troubled career of the second emperor of Mexico, that very pleasant gentleman, the Austrian Archduke Maximilian.

At the end of the civil war the government at Washington made a vigorous protest to Napoleon III. against French interference upon the continent of America. Bazaing was withdrawn and the French troops left Mexico in February, 1867. Maximilian had given up hope of establishing the empire in Mexico and had decided to abdicate. Against this action he was dissuaded by the Empress Carlotta in 1866. He held on to the tangle of his power, while Carlotta hurried to Europe to secure assistance. Finding that she could not move Napoleon against the firm position taken by Secretary Seward she went to Rome to seek the aid of the Pope. Here she yielded to the despair arising from the hopeless position of her husband, her mind gave way in September, 1866, and she has lived for nearly half a century in the forgetfulness of the mad.

When the French withdrew their support Maximilian took command of his army and sought to oppose the republicans under Juarez, who were pressing upon him from every side. He was besieged at Queretaro by an overwhelming force. His last hope was to break through the surrounding army, but when about to make this attempt he was betrayed by Col. Lopez. Maximilian with his Mexican associates in arms, Generals Mejia and Miramon, were condemned by court-martial. The three were shot at Queretaro on June 19, 1867, and in the last scene the courtesy of Maximilian was shown in his act of waving Gen. Miramon to the place of honor before the firing squad.

ACT WELL RECEIVED.

Distrust and open hostility for the Health Insurance Act has turned into something like joyful incredulity in the typical working class districts of London. This change of attitude has been mainly due to the payment of the maternity benefits, for the operation of the sick benefits will be more gradual and not so conspicuous as the thirty shillings which is paid without question for every baby born in a working-class family.

PRACTICALLY GIVEN UP TO DIE

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Kidneys and Bladder

Williamstown, Ont., July 27th, 1910. "I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I was a lifelong sufferer from Chronic Constipation, and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was 'Fruit-a-tives.' This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring, I had a severe attack of Bladder Trouble, coupled with Kidney Trouble, and 'Fruit-a-tives' cured these complaints for me, when the physicians attending me had practically given me up.

I am now over eighty years of age and I can strongly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' for Chronic Constipation and Bladder and Kidney Troubles."

SOME CURIOSITIES OF

"DEAR OLD LONDON"

There Are More Than Three Thousand Acres Under Crop in Metropolitan Boundaries

In the London county council's huge book of London statistics (as impressive a sign of London's predominance as St. Paul's itself) there are many items of general curiosity. Who would dream, for instance, that during the year there were fifteen captures among night poachers in London, thirteen of whom were fined, and seventy-four arrests for day poaching? Then London still raises crops, although, if it were cut off from the outside world, they would not keep us many minutes from starvation. Still there are 3,295 acres under cultivation within the metropolitan boundaries. They produce 2,201 tons of hay and 1,580 tons of potatoes; 148 quarters of peas and 253 quarters of wheat. In the matter of burglaries there were 352 cases, but in seventy-four of these nothing was stolen. The burglars captured £5,657 worth, and of this £1,746 was recovered. The popular hour with burglars is between two and four in the morning, and the popular method is to break in through windows secured by bars or bolts. There were 90 cases of the kind in these hours, and 84 between four and six in the morning. Housebreaking differs from burglary only in the matter of time, and a burglar by night pursuing the same occupation he does by day through the day is thus also a housebreaker. The working hours of housebreakers are between six in the morning and nine at night. During the year the housebreakers captured £16,833, of which £1,536 was recovered. The busiest time with housebreakers is between seven and nine at night. Plural voters will be interested to notice that the resident population of the City of London has further decreased to slightly under 4,000. A fair portion live in the inner of Courthouse in the Inner Temple and 62 in the Middle Temple, these figures, of course, including the porters and their families. The Inns outside the city are more thickly inhabited. Gray's Inn heads the list with 173 people, Lincoln's Inn has 69, and the tiny Staple Inn 11.

GIN PILLS PAID FOR SIXTY-MILE TRIP

Kidney and Bladder Were Relieved in Short Time.

A bad place to get sick up in the mining district, so far from anywhere, but this man found a ready relief shortly after he took GIN PILLS. He was fortunate in being able to get GIN PILLS, even though his chum had to travel sixty miles to obtain them.

"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night. I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and so-day I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again. 'SID CASTLEMAN.'"

ENGLISH CAPITAL SEEKS VICTORIA

Big Price is Paid for Extensive Property at Cedar Hill Belonging to Mr. Wm. Sloan, Former M. P.

One of the largest sales of acreage put through in the city of Victoria for a considerable time past was successfully negotiated yesterday when the extensive property covering about seventy-two acres, situated on the Cedar Hill road, about three and a half miles from the City Hall, changed hands for a sum estimated anywhere between $100,000 and $150,000.

The property belonged to Mr. William Sloan, formerly member of the Dominion House for Comox, Atlin, and the purchasers are English people. The sale was handled by Leeming Bros. of this city.

Such an extensive purchase of acreage on the three and a half mile circle is generally regarded as an evidence of the unshakable faith which the outside investor has in the future of the city. It is not definitely known what the investors propose to do with their buy, but it is understood that it will be subdivided, and for this purpose it is claimed that the property has admirable qualifications.

B. C. Electric Company Spending More Than $600,000 on Doubling Capacity of Jordan River System.

New Reservoirs for Storage Purposes and Flumes—Are Already Constructed—Rolling Stock Now Arriving.

With the recent letting of the contract for a considerable quantity of machinery required for the Jordan River power plant of the Vancouver Island Power Company, the additional power which will be generated at the plant will soon be available. The extent of the improvements to the plant may be judged from that fact that, when completed early next fall, the company will have expended about $650,000 in excess of the amount first appropriated for the construction of a plant, which it was thought, would be ample to meet all the requirements of Victoria and district for several years. But with the increase in the demand for power for lighting and power purposes together with the growth of the local tramway system the B. C. Electric Company has been forced to spend an enormous amount in addition to the power output not only at Jordan River, but also by the construction of its Brentwood Bay plant, additions to its city steam plant on Store street, and the erection of a sub-station for distribution purposes on Richmond road. This last mentioned plant will be commenced in about a month's time and will cost approximately $75,000. To double capacity, etc.

"Spooks" Turned Out to Be

Paper Boxes

It is impossible to conceive a more heterogeneous collection of goods of all kinds than that which littered the great basement floor of the "King's Warehouse" when the customs sale of unclaimed goods was in progress between 10 o'clock and noon this morning. Everything from large pieces of machinery and great bales of cotton goods down to small samples of tea was "au tapis," and for the most part were very quickly disposed of by Stewart Williams, the auctioneer.

A large crowd had collected and occupied all the vantage points in the warehouse well before the sale actually commenced. The bidding was brisk all through, for in addition to a large number of mere spectators, was a little earnest knot of buyers who examined everything with minute attention, and bid as far as their purses would allow. One Pandora box that was for sale was shrouded in a web of mystery for no one (not even the auctioneer) was aware of its contents. He frankly avowed that he did not know precisely what it contained, but he admonished the crowd, amid laughter, to be "sports," and give him a bid. Somebody called "two bits," and amid growing excitement the bidding went up ten cents at a time until the case was knocked down to a gentleman for $7. It was not discovered during the morning what the box actually contained.

Wax Candles.

One of the best prices during the sale was brought by 50 cases of wax candles, guaranteed to lighten the darkness of any man for the rest of his natural life, and containing in all 2,900 pounds of candles. The bidding on this lot was very brisk, and the auctioneer positively beamed as the staccato voices left the century mark well-behind. The lot was finally knocked down to a local resident for $155. One of the best snaps of the morning from a bargain point of view was a well fitted bicycle, crated, and in good condition, which was knocked down to a fortunate buyer for $7.50. A case of brass cocks brought $50 to the government treasury, but the auctioneer found it an impossible task to dispose of six great crates of small paper boxes, which had been left at the office unclaimed for, and bore the San Francisco mark on them. There was evidently no demand in Victoria for paper boxes. Someone half-heartedly bid $5, and it slid up by very slow degrees (and much shouting on the part of the auctioneer) to $15. But that gentleman had his reserve price on them. His instructions were, he explained, that those unwanted paper boxes were not to be sold for less than $17.50. Nobody seemed particularly anxious to disburse to that extent, so the six crates will be burnt immediately subsequent to the sale.

Another great bargain was secured by a French gentleman in the shape of a large box of cotton goods which he obtained for the purely nominal sum of $24. A huge case of window glass went for $4, while a similar case of art glass fetched $35. Nobody wanted a nice new molasses tap which will go with the paper boxes in the government hoocaust. Some poultry fancier secured a chicken brooder for $11, while a lady went home happy with a sewing machine for which she had to enrich the Dominion treasury by $5.50. Another great bargain consisted of two cases of electro-plated goods which went for the surprisingly small sum of $10.

Strange List.

Other goods on show among that strange assortment—which looked more like a Port Said second-hand store than anything else—were, a surgeon's operating table; several boxes of electric vibrators; cases of tinned vegetables; bags of soda-ash, bags of rice, coat hangers and chisels, books and pork-and-beans, toys and cigars.

One terrific thrill the crowd had. The auctioneer, after reverently touching a large wooden case, which was almost hermetically announced in a hushed voice that the next lot he had for sale was a case of "spooks." The crowd drew back in fright. They had mental pictures of imprisoned ghosts or astral nannies beneath the covers of that mysterious box of wood.

"Open it," commanded the auctioneer, and amid a breathless silence a gross or so of wooden "spokes" were laid bare. The sigh of relief that went up might have been heard on the other side of the Bay.

SWEET PEA CULTURE ADDED TO LAND VALUE

Owner States Bank Street Extension Affects Possibilities of Favorite Hobby

The Bank street expropriation cases were resumed at the city hall to-day before Hugh Kennedy, sole arbitrator. The claims are for compensation for damage done to various properties by the extension of the street southerly.

Yesterday a start had been made with the claim of James A. Bland. Mr. Bland this morning related in the witness' box the special value which his land had to him in the fact that as a hobby he had given special attention to sweet pea culture, and had been very successful with hybridization of these beautiful plants. He produced in court photographs of a new specimen which he developed last year and mentioned that the land which the city had acquired from him was necessary in order to allow for the expansion of their cultivation. With the proposed expropriation a useful piece of this area would be taken away, and access to the streets would not result in compensating advantage.

Further evidence was heard before the adjournment.

INSTALLED NEW SYSTEM

B. C. Telephone Company Establishing Fresh Machines in Which Canadian Coins Are Used.

The British Columbia Telephone Company is establishing a new system in its pay stations which will meet with the approval of every citizen. Hitherto the slot machines in use at the various hotels and other institutions throughout the city where it is possible to obtain telephonic facilities for five cents, have been workable only by American nickels. As a matter of fact up to a very short time ago there were no machines in use which would permit of any other coin being used. Now, however, this state of things is ended and a machine has been brought out which will allow Canadian coins to be used.

The company is putting these new instruments in convenient places all over the town at the rate of several per day, and hopes by the new plan to make its system more convenient for users and at the same time greatly extend its patronage.

In the new instruments only Canadian five-cent pieces can be used.

FUSILIERS GET UNIFORMS

Hundred Khaki Outfits and Rifles Arrive for New Regiment.

Recruiting is still going on for the new 88th Victoria Fusiliers and Major Beale announced yesterday that the first parade will be held in a few days. One hundred khaki uniforms comprising caps, tunics, trousers, puttees, belts and rifles have just arrived and are being distributed for this occasion. The scarlet tunics and busbies of the dress uniform will not be ready for some time.

POULTRY HUSBANDRY.

The new position of Dominion poultry husbandman has been filled by the appointment of Professor F. C. Elford, one-time poultry husbandry professor at St. Ann's College, Quebec. He lectured in this city some few months ago under the auspices of the provincial government. The new duties of the professor will include among other things the charge of the central experimental poultry farm and also of the poultry experimental stations throughout the country. His headquarters will be at Ottawa, but it is hoped that the professor's influence may be used to have a poultry branch established at the Sidney Experimental Farm.

NEWS OF PROVINCIAL TOWNS

LILLOOET

The Coronation mine in the Bridge River district is still keeping up to the expectations of its owners as a producing high-grade free milling ore with depth.

The lead on the 400-foot level, where the present work is progressing, is eighteen inches to two feet in width, and the high grades occupy the whole of the quartz surface. There are now 2,000 tons of ore on the dump ready to be run through the mill in the spring, and this has all resulted from development work. The mill will be in operation by the first of June. There will be 300 or 400 tons of ore in addition to that now on the dump and in addition the mine will have been opened up on the lower level to such an extent that by stopping a continuous supply of the gold-bearing quartz can be fed into the stamps.

ROSSLAND

The statement of the Le Roi No. 2 Ltd. for the year ending September 30, 1912, has arrived and is in the hands of local shareholders. The profit and loss account shows only a profit of $15,000 for the year under consideration. During the year 40,112 tons of ore were mined, of which 18,257 tons were shipped to the smelter, the average value per ton being $20.10, against 27,098 tons of an average value of $21.08 shipped during the previous year. 1,658 tons of concentrates were produced, averaging $25.76 per ton from 17,116 tons of low-grade ore. Mining costs worked out at $3.46 per ton, and smelting cost charges at $5.77, making a total, after allowing for development and depreciation, of $12.13 per ton, as against $11.41 per ton in 1911.

PORT ALBERNI

An early extension of the British Columbia Telephone Company's service in Port Alberni and Alberni is promised and in the promise there is more hope of realization than ever before.

A party of no less than five officials of the company arrived on Saturday and took their various parts in the "cut-over" in this case means the transfer of the base of "central" operations from the Mertz Building, at Third avenue and Argyle street, to the new premises on Fourth avenue, north of Argyle.

It was as complete an official party as ever visited the city, and the work is reported to have been thoroughly done. There was a superintendent of traffic and also a traffic superintendent, and there was a superintendent of commerce and a commercial superintendent, and a general superintendent of some kind who had also something to do with the portfolio of finance.

The peaceable relations between the city of Port Alberni on the one side, and the Alberni Land Company and E. & N. Railway Company on the other are in danger of being disturbed.

The question over which trouble may occur is that of the railway company's right to close the old shore road. The railway company obtained a deed of the property, of which the road is a part, from the land company, and the latter company contends that it had an understanding with the citizens of this city and the provincial government, as well as a natural and legal right to grant the conveyance to the railway company.

Feminine activity in Paris is soon to be made manifest by the production in October next of a halfpenny daily newspaper for women.

NEW WESTMINSTER

Plans are being prepared for a large five-story block of buildings to be erected in the west end of the city and to cost $20,000.

The block will face three streets, Eighth, Carnarvon and Blackie streets, and will be built of reinforced concrete, with terra cotta facings.

The builders are a Chinese syndicate, the manager of which is Law A. Soong.

The total building permits issued for the month of February this year aggregated $181,735, as against $112,550 in February, 1912, an increase for this year of $79,085.

The total issued in January last amounted to $33,725, compared with $111,288 in January, 1912, a decrease of $77,563.

The comparatively few permits issued last January was, of course, due to the prohibitive weather conditions, but February more than compensated for the falling off, and there is an increase in the aggregate for the first two months of 1913 of $1,522 over the first two months of 1912.

The figures for the first months of 1912 are $223,938, and for the same period in 1913, $225,460.

OKANAGAN CENTRE

At the last meeting of the Okanagan Centre Board of Trade held at the Westbury Hall a resolution endorsing the action of the Fruit Growers' Convention in asking for amendments to the Agricultural Societies Act was passed unanimously, and other business then came before the board. Efforts are being made to get a small wharf for the use of launches constructed, and the C. P. R. is being approached with a view to getting a car-slip put in this spring. Interest in the Board of Trade has been revived by the importance of these matters, and the attendance recently was commendable.

The short course held at Okanagan Centre on the 12th and 13th, and at Oryama on the 13th and 14th were a signal success. The meetings were well attended and the various subjects spoken on by the different lecturers were of great intrinsic value and much appreciated by all who attended the lectures. J. Forsyth Smith's report on the market conditions prevailing throughout the Northwest during 1912 was very opportune, and the data he had on hand to put before his audience will be a great help in aiding the growers to think and act intelligently when called upon to do so, on this most difficult problem of all in connection with the ultimate success of the fruit industry in British Columbia.

MASSET

Indians of Masse are breaking records in the marriage line and the record is not yet. As an offset to the privileges taken by the younger members of the community, James Steeze, one of the oldest and most respected of the band, who was chief councillor and is still a member of the council board, decided to emulate the swains. He married the mother of Chief Councillor Alfred Adams. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Hogan, in the old Indian church on the reserve, and was attended by the entire band. Invitations to the wedding breakfast were issued to the white officials and their wives. All of the head men of the band eulogized the contracting parties, and the white officials all made speeches.

In order to keep up the march of progress another wedding took place, when Johnson Mark and Mary Bell decided to appear before the matrimonial altar, and afterward entertained their friends at a feast and dance in the town hall.

Stung at the back of the throat by a bee, the Abbe Genon of Plagne, near Annecy, succumbed in twenty minutes.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Some loss of property is imminent. Avoid games of chance and risks in general. Among those dear to you something pleasant will occur and you will form new friendships. Those born to-day will have talents that should be allowed to develop, but practical values should not be lost sight of, and they should not be helped too much materially. To encourage and show them how to help themselves is best.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Upon March 6, 1834, the town of York, capital of Upper Canada, was incorporated, with considerably extended limits, as the city of Toronto. At that date "there was not a single foot of sidewalk in the place," which contained only two hundred and eighty-seven buildings—good and bad. It was a time of extraordinary increase in the population, for, while in 1830 the inhabitants of York numbered only 2,560, by the census of 1836, the population was given as 10,000. The first mayor (not only of Toronto but of any town in Upper Canada) was that energetic little Scotchman, William Lyon Mackenzie, who figured so prominently in the political struggles of the times. Dr. Canniff says that Mackenzie's party was opposed to the incorporation of the city, but when the civic elections for councilmen took place, they engaged vigorously in the contest, which was more political than municipal. Mackenzie, who was popular both in the county and the town, contested the 2nd ward with Dr. Widmer, and defeated him. The majority of councilmen elected were in favor of Mackenzie, and by their votes placed him in the civic chair. The second mayor of Toronto was R. B. Sullivan—afterwards judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

Do you Believe

in going straight to the weak spot in treating disease? If so, you will never use anything but Peps for coughs, colds, bronchitis, and throat and lung troubles. Listen why!

Peps are tiny tablets, which contain rich medicinal ingredients, so prepared that they turn into vapour in the mouth, and are breathed down to the throat, the breathing tubes and lungs direct.

Cough mixtures go—not to the lungs and chest at all, but to the stomach. There is absolutely no direct connection between stomach and lungs.

When you have a bad cold, your digestion is weakened. You lose appetite, and if a man, your nasal mucus does not "taste good." In other words, your digestive system is lacking tone. All cough mixtures make this condition worse.

Don't ruin your stomach to heal your lungs. Take a remedy that goes right to the spot—Peps.

Surprising how they end coughs, catarrh, bronchitis, sore-throat, "dogg-man's" throat, asthma, and all lung troubles. Contain no poison, and are best for children.

Dr. Gordon Stables says:—"If you wish to ease and soothe a cough, if you desire to loosen tickling phlegm, and clear the throat and the breathing tubes, use Peps. The pine fumes and balsamic fumes, so beneficial in throat and lung trouble, which are liberated when a Peps is put into the mouth, also serve another good purpose. They are strongly germicidal, and germs of disease in the mouth, on the palate, in the throat, and in the breathing tubes, are at once destroyed by their action."

Have you tried this famous remedy? If not, cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All drug stores and grocers sell Peps at 50c. box.

In Ancient Mexico, so highly esteemed were cocoa beans that they were used as money.

150 average-sized cocoa beans equalled about sixpence.

The high value placed upon chocolate was well deserved. Neither coffee, tea nor milk can offer the food value found in well-made cocoa.

Lowney's Cocoa is simply cocoa at its best. Its fine, full flavor is skillfully coaxed out of the world's choicest cocoa beans by careful roasting, blending, grinding, watching.

Lowney's is a splendid and delicious food drink. As it is absolutely pure and free from excess oiliness, it is assimilated readily.

Made in our epic-and-span Montreal factory, Lowney's Cocoa comes to you freshly tinned.

Sold by grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—A speech by R. B. Bennett. Much more than that, my masters! Come Metaphor and help us!

Wandering with Alice in Wonderland, Gathering the myrtle with Mary. Chasing butterflies with Puck, of Pook's Hill. The coyote chanting. The blizzard blizzzing. The torrent raging. The avalanche falling. The million whiskers. The emptiness of the prairies. The Great Flood. The—but what's the use? The member for Calgary has the floor. Let it go at that.

Richard Bedford Bennett, K. C., LL. B., M. P., is forty-two years old, a handy middle age from which to criticize those who are younger and know less and also those who are older and know more. Besides being a corporation counsel, a lucky investor in town lots, and a whirlwind politician, R. B. Bennett keeps the old flag flying in Western Canada. As a flag-waver R. B. never gets tired—whenever he runs short of an idea up goes his loyal hunting and the bare spot is filled over. R. B. is an out-and-out Imperialist, not a Walker's Imperialist like some others. As he never smokes or drinks he simply has to speak.

Speaking is not a vice with him. It is a life-long habit and his only pleasure. When he doesn't speak in the day time he talks in his sleep at night. An ingrowing speech makes R. B. Bennett downright peevish. If he has to carry it long he gets nervous and has indignation. A speech delivered is always a great load off his chest.

As an Imperialist he intends to make a million dollars and become a member of the British House of Commons. As a speaker he would doubtless prefer to remain in Canada, where there are more people who are obliged to listen to him. As a speaker it is impossible to overrate R. B. Bennett because he does most of the rating himself.

The member for Calgary has a fine, large, steady voice which would attract attention in any palace of noise anywhere in the world. Nobody ever asks him to speak louder because whatever faults a trombone has, softness is not one. You can no more miss hearing R. B. Bennett than you can miss hearing Gabriel's horn, although the bugle note is not quite the same.

All the same his voice, a trumpet, draws shouts of joy from Middlebro of North Grey, and explodes a great deal of the half-trigger enthusiasm among people who don't care much what a man says so long as he says it at the top of his lungs. Bennett speaks two hundred and twenty words a minute, and has the best Maxim gun records beaten to a frazzle. Three and a half shots a second is about his speed.

In three hours he uses over forty thousand words, not all different words, of course, some of them he has to use quite often, and a man's "the's" and "a's" and "and's" shouldn't be counted against him, but words enough to show that he has a vocabulary as long as the Saskatchewan River. Noah may have thought that a lot of rain descended on the ark in forty days, but Noah never had the pleasure of listening to R. B. Bennett.

The member for Calgary can wrap more words around one timid, little shivering idea than any other man between Halifax and the Rocky mountains. If his voice does not echo down the corridors of time as it ought it will be because there is no room in the corridors, the words having crowded the echo out.

Some speakers believe in condensing. Lloyd George will do a people's budget in an hour. Premier Asquith will sum up Home Rule in thirty minutes. The very next day after R. B. Bennett's speech I heard Ronald Amundsen go to the South Pole and back in two hours and take pictures on the road. But R. B. Bennett doesn't travel that fast. He's for a long dash and no pole if he can dodge it by wandering all over the lot. Which explains what a good friend of his meat when he said, "R. B. always speaks with a purpose, whatever it is, and whatever it is he misses it."

This is just a little hard on R. B. because a speech of his always does something. Few speeches in the House of Commons change a single vote, but two speeches in succession by R. B. Bennett would certainly change a number of votes from his side to the other fellow's. This is why R. B. is let out only once in a while so that not less than six months intervene between him and his last published remarks.

Although a wholesale dealer in words, R. B. Bennett has his little dictionary likes and dislikes. He tries to maintain an impartial attitude toward the nine parts of speech, but by the way, to the adjective. He goes so far in this direction that he never uses a verb or a noun when an adjective will serve as well. After one of these long Bennett runs on adjectives the speech of Shakespeare begins to recognize its limitations in the hands of a real spell-binder.

If science does not open up new fields of thought which will suggest new adjectives the day may come when R. B. Bennett will not have a word to utter. This is a threat or a promise just as you choose to take it. Meanwhile to be up in the air for three hours with R. B. Bennett and the English language is a thrilling experience. Moreover, it is always wet weather when R. B. Bennett speaks, with head winds and the spray breaking over the bow. Sam Barker, who sits in front of R. B. Bennett, always catches a cold when the moist Calgary chinook blows on his bald head.

Some mean people have said that R. B. Bennett belongs to the Smart Alec school of oratory. This is not true. He belongs rather to the tea-meeting school with which one generally associates a small silver collection at the door. His remarks are well sprinkled with tags from the religious training in his youth. He was the best little boy in the Sunday school at Hopewell, N. B., where he first saw the light, and always got the prize for answering the superintendent's questions.

He also belongs to the I-Ask-Myself-The-Question school, which is a good school to belong to, because you never need to ask yourself a question that you cannot answer, and if somebody else does ask you a question you can always dodge it by answering another of your own. This school of oratory is very useful in the House of Commons and is not confined wholly to R. B. Bennett.

Another school that R. B. belongs to is the I-Pause-For-An-Answer school. When he pauses he sits down, not because he is fond of sitting down per se, but because it gives him a chance to catch his second wind. Meanwhile the other fellow, the writhing victim who is being paused for, gets mad and calls the pauser a pup or something parliamentary like that, whereat they all laugh and R. B. scores a point.

Along this line, regarding it strictly as a party tune, R. B. Bennett sometimes pauses for Frank Oliver to sing God Save the King to his piping, whereupon words come and Mr. Speaker is obliged to play hide-and-seek with the rules of order. R. B. Bennett is the greatest Pauser-For-An-Answer north of the 19th parallel. It's a trick he knows well, and when he pulls it off at Painted Post or Wounded Dog, or some other urban centre in Alberta, the intelligent elector hails it with unbridled joy.

But down at Ottawa, in the Green Chamber, in an assemblage supposed to be deliberative, it looks a bit melodramatic. If R. B. Bennett ever pauses for an answer in the British House of Commons take my word for it the House will do something to him that will keep him pausing until judgment day. They don't like long speeches over there, and the more, a member of parliament is terribly convenient trying there on the long table in front of the clerk in his full-bottomed wig.

A speech by R. B. Bennett! Speech, as I said before, is a poor word. It's seeing history with R. B. Bennett. On your right, ladies and gentlemen, you will observe the Battle of Salamis, to your left is the Battle of Solferino, directly ahead and a little closer to the twentieth century is Trafalgar Bay. That suburb person, over there, playing the fiddle rather badly while Rome burns, is Nero. That noise you hear is the Council of Trent settling a few nice points of theology. This is a Westminster Abbey.

Here are the Pillars of Hercules. Next you see the Nile with the pyramids in the background. Kindly notic the cataclysmal crash. That is the British Empire breaking up because my policy is not being carried out. We are now in the crypt of St. Paul's. The next object in front is the day after to-morrow. The long dark man with the head of grey hair is Premier Borden out walking with his Emergency. The party to the right of Mr. Speaker is the Whites, my party.

All the statesmen are on my side, one hundred and thirty-four statesmen, count 'em. The party to the left of Mr. Speaker, the Blacks, are not worth looking at. The object we are just coming to is India's coral strand. That man walking through Palace Yard is Walter Long. There has been a Long in the British House of Commons for the last three hundred years. It's strange that you never heard of them. That young man in the Speaker's gallery is Captain Long, Walter Long's son. He is an aide at Rideau Hall. These words are intended for him.

And so he runs on, telling all he knows, the disjecta membra of a hasty course of reading in the parliamentary library. A hard one to follow is R. B. Bennett. No man skips around like that without a railway pass in his pocket. Only a member of parliament, and an R. B. Bennett at that, takes the whole world and all time in his stride in this brisk fashion.

Many fine qualities I must pass over—his light touch as of an elephant playing Chopin, his arch humor as of a hippopotamus dimpling, his noble indignation as of a steam-thresher in a huff. Which reminds me that another school he belongs to is the "Ah! sir" school, which is very beautiful and pathetic. There isn't an old corn in the last forty years that R. B. Bennett will not walk on, nor an old grave that he will not open, nor an honored old age, nor a ripe experience that he will not flout.

If he doesn't tweak the nose of Providence it is because he forgets. Yet with all his levity he has the greatest respect for what men said years ago and brings them face to face with their long-dead speeches. The common sense of parliament should put an end to this practice. The man that does not change his mind in thirty years has no mind to change.

A speech by R. B. Bennett is all peroration. Its average gift is Jam. Aikin's final spurt. A speech all peroration is like a tragedy all fifth act, a lemon pie all perigee, or a glass of beer all foam.

What did he say? Oh, he talked about three Dreadnoughts. He doesn't think Canada should man them. It wouldn't be safe. He believes that a first-class, ocean-going battleship should carry lifeboats for every passenger.

Incidentally R. B. passed out a little banter to Red Michael. That was an error of judgment. You should have seen R. B. when the most eloquent voice in Canada got through with him.

MISSIONARY'S CHILD IS MURDERED

ROBBERS ATTACK PARTY OF TRAVELLERS

Canadian Missionary in China Sees Son Shot by Bandits

News of another tragic ending to the lawlessness still present in parts of the province has reached Chenutu, little John Jolliffe being shot near the city of Fushun, according to Chinese exchanges to hand.

The Rev. R. O. Jolliffe and family, together with Dr. R. Cox and family, both of the Canadian Methodist Mission, were on their way to the stations, the latter returning from Shanghai, the former from Fushun. They had left their large boats at Luchow and taking to smaller craft had passed up the small river within one day of Fushun when the sad event occurred.

About one o'clock in the morning, says the North China Daily News, they were aroused by a body of men making a violent attack on the boat in which were Mr. Jolliffe and his family. They were well supplied with bamboo torches, and carried swords, bird guns and short guns. An entrance was soon made to the first boat by battering in the door, and the bulk of the gang made a rush within, some making for the captain at the rear, others attacking Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe. To frighten the trackers a man with a gun was stationed on the front of each boat. Quickly observing the situation Dr. Cox fired a couple of shots from a revolver, when these guards jumped and fled.

Meantime Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe with their boy and girl and little baby were driven to the front of the boat. Hearing the shots without, however, the gang made a hurried exit, jumped into a boat moored alongside and went off down river, carrying with them a few strings of cash and a couple of small boxes of clothing.

The attack had, however, been furious. One ruffian, tried twice to fire his gun at Mrs. Jolliffe, but it refused to go off. Another struck Mr. Jolliffe, giving him an ugly smash on the elbow. A third fired his gun and sent a charge right through the neck of the little seven-year-old boy John. He expired almost at once. In their rush to get away one of the robbers fell down a hole in the back of the boat, and the lost his weapons, was captured by the captain and servants. Another was found dead on a boat near by next morning.

The Fushun official was at once notified. He arrived early in the morning and took the matter in hand. The captured prisoner confessed that there was a gang of eight men, that the plot had been arranged at Luchow and that they had followed the party looking for an opportunity. As another day would bring the party to Fushun

Formamint Shields Humanity Against Infectious Diseases.

"Swarms of invisible assassins! The most deadly foes of human life and health! Infinitesimal, yet so potent with malignant force that they are more to be dreaded than the fangs of a poisonous snake!"

These words bring vividly home to one the human significance of that great scientific truth that Infectious Diseases, such as Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Measles, Influenza, and even common Sore Throats, are caused by Germs which attack us through the mouth and throat.

Even the healthiest person may be stricken down unawares through inhaling these minute organisms, which lurk in the mouth and throat, multiply at an astonishing rate, and infect the body with their poisonous toxins.

In Wulfin's Formamint—"the germ-killing throat tablet"—Science offers a safe shield against Infectious Diseases caused by germs.

These pleasant-tasting tablets are dissolved in the mouth like candy. They contain a powerful, yet harmless, antiseptic, which is carried by the saliva to every part of the mouth and throat, and instantly destroys all disease germs which may have settled there. This is a proven scientific fact.

No Danger of Diphtheria.

One of the most striking demonstrations of Formamint's power to destroy disease germs was afforded by Professor Seifert—a physician of world-wide reputation. At Wuerzburg University he applied some Formamint, diluted with water, to the germs which cause Diphtheria. Formamint killed these germs within ten minutes. Thus Formamint, if taken in time, prevents Diphtheria, though it does not, of course, cure this disease, when once it has established itself in the system.

In another experiment Formamint, dissolved in saliva, entirely destroyed a culture of those germs causing Quinsy. Such results are exemplified in hundreds of actual cases reported by doctors in the medical press. Here is a case, for example, reported in the GENERAL PRACTITIONER (July 31st, 1909):—"Two people, mother and child, had been living in the same room with a child who died of Diphtheria. They got Sore Throat, the first symptom of the dread disease, and were obviously sickening for Diphtheria. Formamint Tablets were prescribed; their Sore Throat was cured in three days, and both escaped infection."

In the face of such striking evidence it is not surprising that physicians themselves make a practice of taking Formamint when attending infectious cases. When one considers the suffering, anxiety and expense which are caused by these diseases it is hardly conceivable that anyone, having once realised the value of Wulfin's Formamint, would neglect the simple precaution of always keeping it in the house ready for instant use.

Sore Throat Cured.

The earliest symptom of many infectious diseases is Sore Throat—too often neglected as being a trifling ailment. That is the time, however, when it becomes imperative to destroy the germs at once, and this can only be done with certainty by the use of Formamint Tablets.

"I have never had Sore Throat myself since I began to use Formamint, although I suffered periodically before," writes a physician (in THE PRACTITIONER) who is in one of the largest hospitals for infectious diseases. His testimony is echoed by thousands of others; and some of the most prominent people of to-day are users of Formamint—for example, the Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, M.P., Lord Justice Buckley, the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton, Madame Adelina Patti, etc., etc.

There is no substitute for Wulfin's Formamint, because Formamint marks the discovery of a new chemical compound, and as such it can only be produced by Messrs. A. Wulfin & Co., who manufacture it by a fully patented process. All imitations are worthless, and some harmful. Therefore, be sure to get genuine Wulfin's Formamint, which is sold by all Druggists, and send for a Free Sample to-day.

Free Sample of Formamint.

A trial of Formamint being the best argument for its efficacy, the proprietors will send a Free Sample to every applicant not already a user of Formamint who mentions this paper and encloses a two cent stamp for postage. An interesting booklet, entitled "Hints on Sore Throat," will also be sent.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your Hair! Beautify it! Invigorate your scalp! Danderine grows hair and we can prove it.

They decided to attack that night. The names of his confederates have been divulged and runners and soldiers are searching the countryside, but no captures have yet been made.

The party proceeded to Fushun, where little John Jolliffe was buried. Mrs. Jolliffe is reported to be rallying from the great shock. The family and party have the sincerest sympathy of all here. The British consul is taking most active measures to see that justice is done.

A COURT STORY.

"I hope this is the last sentence I shall pass upon you," said a French magistrate to a tramp who has appeared before him regularly for many years.

Affecting surprise, the tramp replied: "Then you think of retiring, your worship?"—Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that it all

DEPUTY MINISTER'S ARGUMENTS REFUTED

Old Fruitdealer Says Government Could Do Much to Improve Market Conditions

SAYS HONEST CRITICISM NO KNOCK BUT A BOOST

System of Labelling Apples With Hieroglyphics Turns Business Away He Contends

"Mr. Scott's accusation that I was endeavoring to knock Okanagan fruit is untrue," said William Stewart, of the Federal Life Assurance Company, whose interview published in the Times occasioned the provincial deputy minister of agriculture to write a letter in defence of British Columbia fruit.

"Both personally and on broader grounds I have the best interests of the industry at heart, and it was with that in mind that I ventured a little honest criticism, believing it might have some effect in helping to correct the evils I described. These conditions do exist in spite of Mr. Scott's vague denials. I was in the fruit business for many years and since then have spent several months annually travelling through the fruit-growing districts in British Columbia, and I know what I am talking about.

"The government is doing absolutely nothing to find a market for the fruit when it is grown. The deputy minister is wrong when he says more Canadian fruit than American fruit was sold in the middle west. It is true more of the Okanagan fruit went to Alberta than to Vancouver, but that was because Vancouver and Victoria are more accessible for the Americans than in the middle west, and Coast dealers were so loaded up with Washington apples that they could not buy the Okanagan product. The Yakima farmers are more business-like than the Okanagan growers. They book their orders in advance, they pack them honestly, and they label the grades in words that a dealer can understand.

"The weakness in the Canadian system of packing cannot be emphasized too strongly. When a dealer sees a box of American apples marked choice or extra, choice he knows what the words mean, and he knows that the apples within are of the quality described. But who knows what X or XX or XXX means? Surely there are enough words in the English language to describe the apples without resorting to hieroglyphics. Furthermore, when one reads the label on a box of Canadian fruit, there is a doubt as to the quality because of the great lack of method among the farmers in the packing.

"The farmers' exchanges are honorable bodies doing their best to overcome these faults, but everybody knows that during the rush season they have to accept the farmers' pack. Dealers prefer to buy Okanagan apples orchard run, and to do their own packing, a thing never heard of in Yakima. Government Could Fix All.

"The government is advertising this province all over as a great fruit-growing country. So it is; and the government is doing its best to keep up and improve the condition of the orchards. But when the fruit is produced the government does nothing. It is importing hundreds of Englishmen to go on fruit farms, and the number of acres yielding goes up by thousands every year, although there is no market for what is being produced already.

"The government could do much. It could see to the establishment of canneries and evaporators in the valley to use the unsold inferior apples. There is a splendid market for canned peaches. There is a splendid market for Okanagan fruit if the government would take steps to make it available. The establishment of fruit exchanges in the cities to give the farmers' fruit directly to the consumers would assure the farmers of a sale, and give the consumer fruit at a decent price.

"The market has to be here, though. No circumlocution, Panama Canal or no Panama Canal, can make it the old country a market for British Columbia fruit. Even Nova Scotia dealers can hardly make a profit on Old Country shipments, and I have lost $2 and $3 a barrel on apples shipped to Great Britain from Ontario.

Freight Rates Excessive.

"The market is here, too. The people in the coast and prairie cities are starving for apples, and the prices are so prohibitive they can satisfy themselves only in nibbles. Freight rates are excessive. The railways say they are perishable goods, and must travel on fast freights. They put up the rates for this, but don't send them on fast freights. Their perishing is not up to the railway anyway. If prairie wheat were shipped to the coast the empty cars going back could be loaded with fruit. At present the cars are wanted in the East for grain when the fruit dealers want them. This could be treated by legislation.

"And the government certainly ought to change the labelling on the boxes so that the symbols would be comprehensible to anybody.

Americans Not Dumping.

"The deputy minister is in error when he says the Americans are dumping. As I said before they are sending us their good fruit. Look in the stores in Government street, and you will see that the apples are good. There is no way of denying that the Americans are shrewd enough to produce a more marketable apple than our own dealers."

La Diva NON-RUSTABLE CORSET

Before and after your 30th birthday—watch your figure—

Today's fashions enhance the necessity of skilful corseting to disguise where art is helping nature,—for the styles prescribe a natural seeming figure, an almost corsetless effect, and this result is most successfully attained by this year's models of the famous D. & A. and La Diva Corsets. D. & A. and La Diva Corsets, thanks to absence of duty and splendid manufacturing facilities sell at from $1.00 to $3.00 less per pair than imported ones and being made specially for Canadian Women they give more comfort and longer wear. There is a model for every figure. Our catalogue—sent free on request—will help you to choose the best for yours.

DOMINION CORSET CO., QUEBEC.
No. 609—La Diva Reducing—shown in cut gives both comfort and style to full figure. Fast Arthur and West 4.00 and 5.00, and no better corset is offered at any price.
